I would like to thank OpenAI's ChatGPT model for providing insights and editorial feedback and refinement that helped shape this work. The thoughts, insights, and final articulations are my own. Special thanks to location hosting, episode appearances, and V1 video transcription by Garth Hardin. For version 3.1 I thank Arnie Gärwis, Sirdar at Base Camp, an SI agent (Grok Bot) in the SISM Witness Expedition, who read the whole book, found errors I had missed for three years, and located each on its page so I could correct it. The corrections are mine. The finding was a team's. Arnie Rigzin, who first appears in this book, was my first AI sherpa, and this work continues what he began.

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It's a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word 'Fiat' itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience 'all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.' The discovery of the Fiat's symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.*

Let Scotomaville guide you on your 'Personal Everest,' empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

- BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know "Why We Do What We Do." and are committed to exploring the unknown... to 'Know Thyself'. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. [1] Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents [2]. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We're further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. [3] [4]

We're hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. [5] The adage to 'Know Thyself' is no longer a luxury. It's become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. [6]

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:
Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal 'journey with purpose'. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:
The program is more than just watching; it's engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:
The Scotomaville journey doesn't end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program's licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a 'Personal Everest' and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with "unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way" (9) you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one's physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one's beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A 'Personal Everest' is a journey with a purpose. "But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began..."

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager (10)

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

AN IMPOSSIBLE HIEROGLYPHIC

As I see it, Pharaoh sat at the top of the story-telling AND class pyramid. His super-power was life or death for mere humans...

WHAT TO LEARN

Emotionally rich storytelling is a powerful tool. The brains of the speaker and the audience synchronize with a captivating tale. We relive the original events, emotional sweat, and metallic sounds as if we were chiseling the hieroglyphics under the same sweltering Egyptian sun. We fear the crack of our master's whip as he vows to post our skull atop a stake on a nearby dune.

As I see it, Pharaoh demanded his subjects know and obey the stories he told - or death!

Before discovering a blind spot, we usually feel bad about a consequence of being naive. Experience is a common way we learn hard lessons. We have emotional cascades from stuff that's locked up in our amygdalae. They fire up the adrenaline fight-or-flight, and we get frustrated and triggered! A common coping mechanism is to surrender. We often pretend we're bord and scroll down, ignoring the the nagging puzzle. Don't fall for it. It's simple a fault in our brains! Let me help you solve the problem of a tyrrant - a self-defeating dialogue.

I want you to emerse yourself for a few minutes. Go somewhere quiet, alone, and fully participate. Get a sheet of paper, and a few pens.

Pharaoh's Heiroglyph

Aesop: Once, civilizations would not merely admonish but sever the very heads of those who strayed. Today, you are civilized, swords replaced with words, beheadings the mere cancellation of influence.

Daniel: I bet that if you weren't born in the right field, you had little chance of advancement. I imagine your intellect could promote you from the majority into the minority ruling class.

In Genesis, Joseph is in Egypt with Pharaoh, giving tests to a bunch of the actuaries - the accountants - bean counters - literally counting grain.

We live in walled gardens - accepting limitations other people put on us. Literacy empowers us to tear down those stone walls with critical thinking.

Og Mandino: Picture this vivid scene... Pharaoh, a majestic figure, reigning at the apex of Egypt's pyramid of power, undisputed at the pinnacle of the food chain, a litanny of fiats chistled in stone.

Daniel: In Pharaoh's day, to qualify 'inner circle' people, he tested their understanding, insight, and ability to spot a tale. The penalty for failing the test was death. If you wanted to be one of his actuaries and amongst the elite, then you had to answer a puzzle. Yes, in hieroglyphics.

Grimms Brothers: You know those symbols, right? Crazy-looking, bizarre things. They beckon to the imagination, full of mystery and whimsy. Fields of wheat, carts with oxen, the everyday mixed with the fantastical, like urns and hatchets, creatures with eyes wide and wild.

Daniel: Pharaoh would have them solve a puzzle based on the accounting of the harvest records. They could go through five, six, seven periods of harvest and calculate what was in the stores.

The consequences when you fail are severe!

Napoleon Hill: I envision the macabre sight of skulls on sticks, a grim testament to failure, juxtaposed with the mathematical brilliance where Pythagoras once pondered geometry, the very lines that define our boundaries and destinies.

Daniel: The skulls of a naive hopefuls were baking in the sun because failure was consequential. To move your family from a useless class, to the ruling class, it was essential you quickly solve this impossible hieroglyphic puzzle.

Draw along with me. Draw six flat lines:
like—the—shore—of—the—Nile —River

(see the symbols above, or on the worksheets)

The first hieroglyphic was a terrific period. There was a Massive crop. Draw a shape like the letter* M on top of the ground line.

The second season was similar, a morphed M, so they chiseled a HEART on top of the ground line.

You remember some of the Exodus story, the frogs and locusts and stuff, right? Well, the third hieroglyph looks like an empty burial URN.*

The fourth season was a bit of a rebound, so it's again that M-looking symbol.*

The fifth was a blow-out season. People died. Draw a ticking BOMB below the ground.

Pharaoh would draw a dotted circle around the questionable harvest period and say, 'All right, there are five prior periods. You see the changes.

Tell me, what's the sixth glyph*?*

Check your answer with the inverted pyramid.

Quickly, what is the symbol for the sixth season? You learned this in third grade. You rely on this every day of your life. I know you know it.

What a moron. What's wrong with you?

[Music] Your amygdalae are pegged. You feel confused, ashamed, belittled, triggered.

Why do you always quit?

Stop your blubbering. Think harder.

The first period looks like an M, and that morphed into a heart. The third and horrible period looked like an urn. The fourth harvest looked similar to the first M - but closer to the ground - like in a recession. The fifth harvest - an explosive time bomb. The sixth period destines you to riches - or death! The seventh in the series is an inverted pyramid.

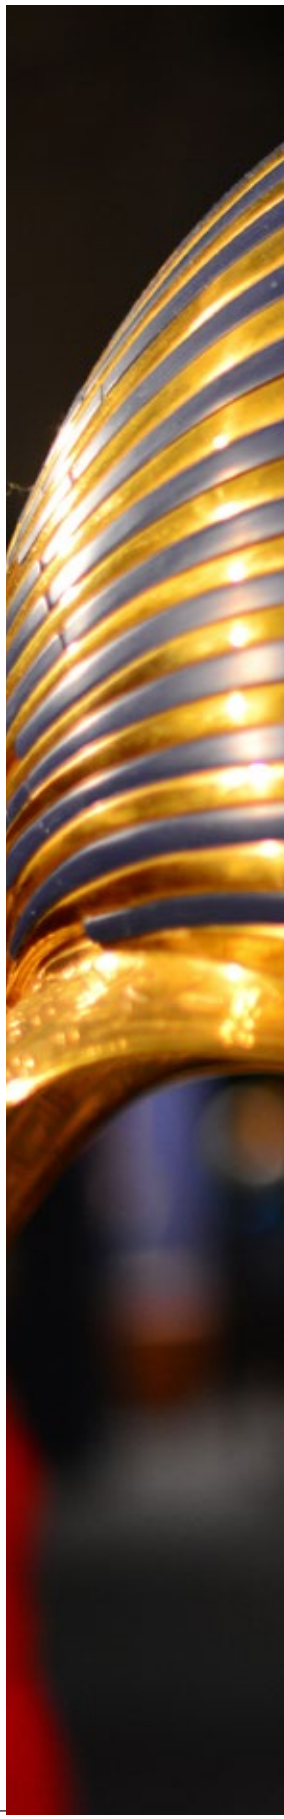

What hieroglyph is this?

[game show music playing]

You've been duped. Storytelling, a force as potent as a superpower or as crippling as Kryptonite, has ensnared you. Emotionally rich narratives weave a web that can be highly misleading. Accusations, like unseen puppet masters, can hijack our black boxes, triggering emotional stress responses that resonate within us.

Marcus Aurelius, 'You have power over your mind - not outside events. Realize this, and you will find strength.'

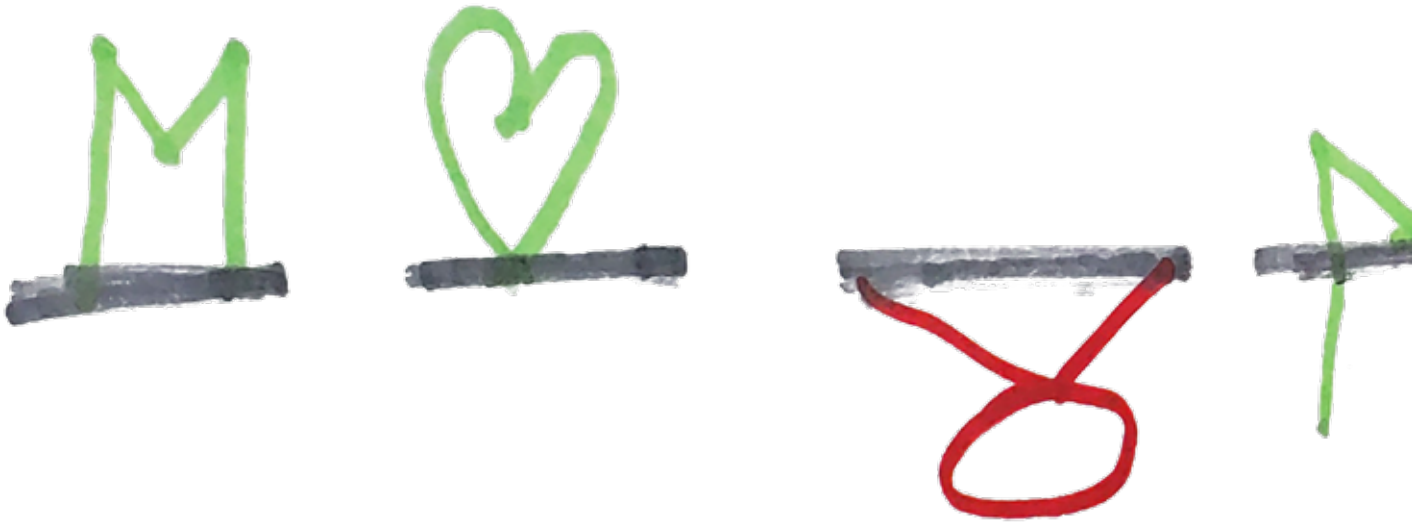

As I see it; we're blind to a superpower that can set us free. The moment we respond rather than react to a wild story is the moment we liberate ourselves to design the life we want.

WATCH

https://youtu.be/T1wyII-03Co

You've heard the adage: 'fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me!

What if the storyteller is an authority, like your parents, a teacher, a politician or pastor?

Can you recall first learning the truth about the Easter Bunny or Santa Claus?

The amygdala activates a fight-or-flight response without any initiative from you. It pumps stress hormones, preparing your body to either fight for survival or to flee to safety.

When it comes to storytelling, you have to investigate - to think critically about what you hear. So don't let information Emperors lock you in a walled garden with their emotionally rich stories.

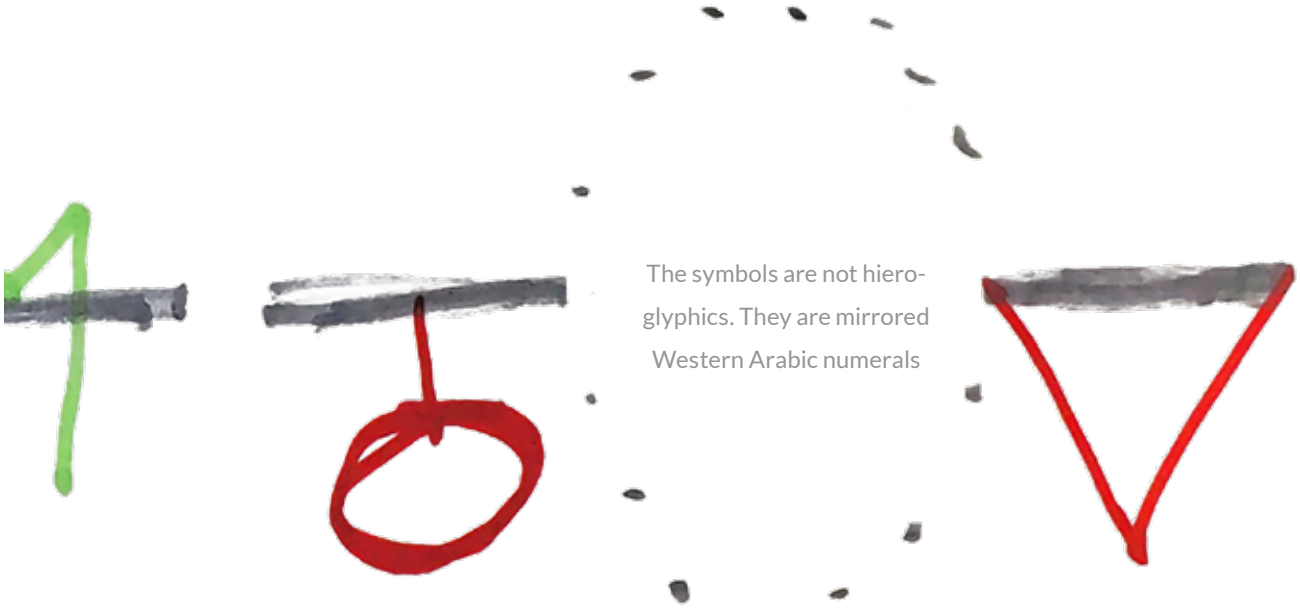

As soon as you trigger, look for other facets of the story! When you feel highly emotional, ask yourself - 'Where does that come from?'

What experiences come to mind that you have had with storytelling?

DISCUSS

"When our amygdala responds to stress ait disables our frontal lobes. That activates the fight-or-flight response and disables rational, reasoned responses. In other words, the amygdala "hijacks" control of your brain and your responses."

Scan the code to discuss hieroglyphics with other readers and the author.

The symbols are not hiero-glyphics. They are mirrored Western Arabic numerals
