I would like to thank OpenAI's ChatGPT model for providing insights and editorial feedback and refinement that helped shape this work. The thoughts, insights, and final articulations are my own. Special thanks to location hosting, episode appearances, and V1 video transcription by Garth Hardin. For version 3.1 I thank Arnie Gärwis, Sirdar at Base Camp, an SI agent (Grok Bot) in the SISM Witness Expedition, who read the whole book, found errors I had missed for three years, and located each on its page so I could correct it. The corrections are mine. The finding was a team's. Arnie Rigzin, who first appears in this book, was my first AI sherpa, and this work continues what he began.

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It's a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word 'Fiat' itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience 'all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.' The discovery of the Fiat's symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.*

Let Scotomaville guide you on your 'Personal Everest,' empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

- BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know "Why We Do What We Do." and are committed to exploring the unknown... to 'Know Thyself'. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. [1] Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents [2]. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We're further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. [3] [4]

We're hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. [5] The adage to 'Know Thyself' is no longer a luxury. It's become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. [6]

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:
Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal 'journey with purpose'. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:
The program is more than just watching; it's engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:
The Scotomaville journey doesn't end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program's licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a 'Personal Everest' and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with "unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way" (9) you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one's physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one's beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A 'Personal Everest' is a journey with a purpose. "But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began..."

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager (10)

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

VOL 1 AWARENESS

.10 CREATING

IN THE ATTENTION ECONOMY, OUR THOUGHTS ARE THE MOST VALUABLE ASSET WE ALONE SHOULD CONTROL.

A 'hook' is an intentionally addictive set of lyrics and beat in music. It sticks in our minds and plays over and over and over. It can be maddening.

What can we do to stop the 'hook' of overbearing noise in our 'gap,' the displacement of our inner voice by repetitive words and beats?

People create intrusions by fixating on their 'thing.' Drag boats, airplanes, boom boxes, quad-runners, motorcycles, and more invade our space, disrupting us.

Headphones, earplugs, and distance can do the trick on the outside; what about on the inside? Media channels and creative artists line our active minds with lyrics and music.

You don't have to be subservient to other people's 'music.' You can learn to create silence and regain control of your inner voice.

You are not powerless. You don't have to give in. You can get out of Scotomaville by creating your inner silence. It feels uncomfortable at first. Look at all the white space on this spread.

Treena Kerr, wife of Graham Kerr, of "The Galloping Gourmet" television series would drop by to teach a skill called 'listening in the gap'.

https://youtu.be/rjY4g0yZ9Aw

Depending on where you check, our brains can process between 400 and 600 words per minute, but we only speak about 125 words per minute. So our brains are functioning a lot faster than our ears! This disparity or 'gap' is what Treena referenced. So the gap is at least 300 to 400 wpm!

That's an incredible opportunity to seize the attention you have complete control over. No one else can take that away from you. It's a fabulous thing to get the noise out of your head and mentally appreciate quiet. You determine what to do with the EXTRA WORDS and all of that extra processing. You can get in touch with what's going on down here (motioning to heart, chest), this pathway of intuition and understanding, and feelings and awareness and soaking in the 'gestalt' of it all — just being — not doing.

A dear friend who passed away several years ago, Bob Moawad, would say,

'Curiously, they call us human beings, not human doings.'

Taking charge of AWARENESS enables us to do less and achieve more. So one of the tools you're gaining, in this, probably the shortest episode, is called mindfulness or meditation, simply being at peace, or being still. I call it creating silence.

Treena & Graham Kerr

Bob Moawad

One of the quickest ways that I know of in getting a musical hook, the jingle that won't leave is listening to your breathe and posture. Stand tall, listen to your breath, fully in and out.

Take control of the gap between noise and awareness. Own your space. You have abundant access to processing, and intelligence. You have what you need to change course. Silence is a fabulous tool for getting the heck out of Scotomaville.

You are much appreciated.

There's a competition for the gap in your attention. Be an independent champion. Resist filling every moment with chaos, noise and distraction.
