AN INTERACTIVE - AI GUIDED - SELF-MASTERY EXPEDITION FOR LEAVING

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It’s a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word ‘Fiat’ itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience ‘all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.’ The discovery of the Fiat’s symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.

Let Scotomaville guide you on your ‘Personal Everest,’ empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

■ BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know “Why We Do What We Do.” and are committed to exploring the unknown... to ‘Know Thyself’. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. ⁽¹⁾ Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents ⁽²⁾. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We’re further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾

We’re hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. ⁽⁵⁾ The adage to ‘Know Thyself’ is no longer a luxury. It’s become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. ⁽⁶⁾

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:

Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal ‘journey with purpose’. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:

The program is more than just watching; it’s engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:

The Scotomaville journey doesn’t end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program’s licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a ‘Personal Everest’ and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with “unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way” ⁽⁹⁾ you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one’s physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one’s beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A ‘Personal Everest’ is a journey with a purpose. “But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began...”

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager ⁽¹⁰⁾

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

I grew up around sailor talk. My adopted grandfather was a Marine drill instructor. His only child became my stepdad. He didn't learn or pass-on emotional distinction. He was a cop and an undercover narcotics agent. His practice was to shoot first and, when the dust settled, figure out the story and who might have been guilty.

That philosophy doesn't work very well in a marriage. Fortunately, my kids survived childhood and have done fabulously in life.

Cultivating An Emotional Vocabulary

Consider the difference between that kid game called 'chutes and ladders' and the ridge-running (to the right) by Kilian Jornet. Yeah, he's running like a nimble mountain goat up and down the spine of a mountain! I'm suggesting we're capable of using emotional words to summit an arduous journey with patience and precision.

Cultivating an emotional vocabulary is really 'blinkin@* tough! I recently miscut an avocado and sliced my hand. Sailor talk surfaced long before I considered my list of feelings.

My son is an EMT. He said, 'Yeah, that happens frequently, Dad. People cut themselves rather than avocado. Slow down, pay attention.'

"Making breakfast this morning, I intended to cut some grapefruit, and holy #@*!.."
(PASS/FAIL)

"Learning to choose accurate and precise emotional words is similar to segmenting a grapefruit. Your fingers are there, so you don't want to slice into (click... smack as camera falls onto knife) aaah%#!" I trigger again!
(PASS/FAIL)

I didn't see the test coming, and yet W. H. Murray warned me in advance, "All sorts of things occur to help one that would never otherwise have occurred." I started cutting while thinking -- don't Talk about learning an emotional vocabulary! They call it 'ridge-running' - racing between cliffs on the granite spine of a mountain.

Kilian Jornet - <https://youtu.be/MRzeLDkWT1c> cut yourself. Then 'the teacher appears,' the camera falls, testing sailor talk vs. emotional vocabulary. You saw that.

(PASS/FAIL)

My brain reacted as if a tiger was leaping at me from a tree, triggering adrenaline to accelerate my fight or flight. I intend to act calmly, but my biology wants to run for my life! So I felt threatened and curse like a sailor. What the f..! Piece of S..^#@!!" After calming down, I realize my amygdalae are still opposing my distinction and expression! I'm not yet a civilized emotional 'sommelier'! Ok, not yet, but I'm cultivating my pathways!

ONUS PROBANDI:

Help me understand what I intended to say in this transcript. There are several good ideas, but I'm not making an intelligible narrative.

It seems that the transcript provided centers around emotional intelligence. We'll break down the main ideas and organize them into a coherent narrative:

Commitment to Purpose-Driven Journeys:

The beginning emphasizes the importance of being committed to a purposeful journey, highlighting that providence provides unexpected aid when one is dedicated.

Tracking Personal Growth: There's a strong recommendation to record even the mundane events of life, reflecting on personal growth over time. This could be seen as a strategy for intentional self-improvement.

From Awareness to Understanding: The importance of mature awareness through understanding is underlined, and there is a call to observe how instinctual reactions (fight or flight) can be tempered with emotional maturity. This illustrates how our primitive reactions can be harnessed and refined.

Discipline in Emotional Vocabulary: Building emotional vocabulary is seen as a means of fostering healthy expression instead of reactionary outbursts. This part emphasizes the disciplined practice of self-regulation, likening the process to creating off-ramps for instinctual, life-threatening reactions.

Judicious Use of Vocabulary: The transcript recognizes that newfound awareness should be handled wisely, not to alienate or assault others but to build bridges. Your anecdote about fixating on your Asperger score adds a personal touch and a gentle reminder to be patient with oneself.

Practical Steps to Emotional Development: Toward the end, you provide practical tips for readers to enhance their emotional vocabulary and encourage them to integrate this practice into daily life. This section gives actionable insights to help make the abstract concept of emotional growth tangible.

Encouragement and Personal Testimony: You conclude by offering encouragement, sharing your personal success as a highly functional Asperger individual, and connecting it to your journey out of "Scotomaville." This adds a personal and inspiring touch.

As Viktor Frankl stated, "When we are no longer able to change a situation, we are challenged to change ourselves." This transcript seems to embody a similar sentiment, urging readers to take control of their inner world and make positive changes.

Yes, thank you. That's how I got the heck out of Scotomaville. Alright, see you next episode.

DANIEL:
"Development of an emotional vocabulary is a brutal effort. It's been an arduous journey acquiring dexterity for my awareness summit. The words are still below the surface. I have to dig for them. I had to put them on the refrigerator for at least three years."

ANGELINA:
"we had the word list on the refrigerator. This was good because we would discipline ourselves in the middle of a heated discussion to go to the refrigerator and pick the best word."

DANIEL:
"I'd have a constipated emotional word and be conflicted. I would go to the list posted on the refrigerator and ask myself which word matched how was feeling. Did I feel 'pressured', under 'tension', 'compelled' or..."

ANGELINA:
"One of the challenges that our relationship had was Daniel pulling from his childhood the pressure to have an answer to something in an unfair amount of time. He would put unrealistic pressure on himself, and I could never understand that because I didn't put that pressure on him". (He felt threatened)

DANIEL:
"You remember I shared about my stepfather being an undercover narcotics agent - kicking the door down 'shoot' 'shoot'. Okay now who was responsible for this mess?. I had consequences before I had a trial. That would be stress-filled."

ANGELINA:
"I think in most relationships - from incidental to parental and vocational relationships - if people had the understanding that the distinction in the words they use have power, it would be a different outcome at times.

Feeling safe that you can articulate one of those words is also really important, so that's why Daniel in a previous video was talking about him speaking more words than I do. Over time I've been able to share more words because his responses are healthier as we are healthier."

DANIEL:
"Is it your recommendation that there is value in using more emotionally rich words?"

ANGELINA:
"It's a great tool because one: we're different ages - we're ten years apart. Two: we have different cultures. I was born and raised in Germany. English is my second language. The meaning behind words can be very different."

DANIEL:
"And the order of words is often flipped".

ANGELINA:
"Yeah, between my traumatic brain injury and English as my second language. I have a pretty good sense when someone goes ouch in whatever manifestation that ouch is. It helps to slow down and to find out what a certain word means to him - like some words that used to bug the doo-dah out of Daniel."

DANIEL:
"You used the word: 'fine'. Sandpaper comes in 'coarse', 'medium' and 'fine'. I'd be confused... huh? What do you mean that it's fine? Is it acceptable" or not going to work well?

ANGELINA:
"I recommend an emotionally rich vocabulary. It's a benefit. It's a relationship asset."

DANIEL:
"Post it on your refrigerator. Pick words when you're getting the glass of wine for the wife.

Have fun. It's a good tool."

FROM THE REFLECTION EPISODE

If you pay attention, there are moments that capture uber-rich emotional rewards. This celebration of the life of Scott Withrow pulls numerous fond memories of deeply rewarding choices made by those involved in the YWAM Operation L.O.R.D team. (LOnG Range Development) I feel a joy of ‘family’ across decades with these characters. From L-R: Daniel ‘flooding’ Tim Kleefeld (out of frame), Erik Jurgensen, Scott & Jean Hamilton, Angelina Musik-Comp, Adelia Kleefeld and Graham Kerr. I picked the raspberries and blueberries from my son David’s garden just beforehand, while appreciating that David is passing values and experience to my grandson Ruben and granddaughter June that began with Graham nearly five decades earlier. This image is indeed Onus Probandi of an emotional fractal originating with Jesus Christ, and reaching forward through an AI training set.

“Scotomaville” takes readers on an introspective journey into personal development. Through a seamless blend of philosophical dialogues, allegorical narratives, and psychological concepts, the book weaves an engaging exploration that appeals to both the mind and the heart. The author adeptly delves into themes such as perception, self-mastery, and the hero’s journey, showcasing a profound grasp of psychological processes and their influence on human behavior. For those navigating the complexities of personal growth, the trilogy offers a transformative odyssey, illustrating that resilience and self-discovery are universal quests that resonate with individuals seeking to overcome inner challenges and doubts.

This trilogy serves as a reflection for military veterans and first responders, echoing their sacrifices, camaraderie, and sense of purpose. The themes of adversity, seeking guidance, and embracing healing closely align with their experiences, providing a source of inspiration for those who have selflessly protected and served others.

For patriots and believers who hold their values dear, the trilogy presents character-driven narratives that mirror their dedication to higher principles. Exploring community, unity, and personal growth, the books align with their desire to positively contribute to society and reinforce the significance of collective well-being.

Fatherless individuals and young explorers identify with the trilogy’s portrayal of quests for identity and meaning. The characters’ journeys from uncertainty to self-assuredness reflect the universal process of finding one’s place in the world, motivating young minds to navigate life’s puzzles with courage and determination.

Moreover, experts in fields from psychology and storytelling to stoic and biblical philosophy will appreciate the trilogy’s profound concepts interwoven with relatable narratives. The author’s mastery is evident in crafting a work that appeals to intellectual and emotional sensibilities alike.

Throughout the trilogy, Daniel’s transformation serves as a relatable and inspiring narrative. His evolution from a curious seeker hindered by cognitive biases to a self-aware individual confronting inner doubts resonates deeply with readers.

In a world valuing personal growth, camaraderie, service, purpose, and self-discovery, the Scotomaville Trilogy stands as proof of storytelling’s power to connect, inspire, and transform. Its pages offer lessons, insights, and reflections embracing the shared human experience, making it an essential read for individuals from all walks of life. In conclusion, the trilogy’s rich philosophical discussions, relatable character arcs, and insightful exploration of cognitive biases contribute significantly to the fields of psychology and personal development.

Please express any correlation between my list of strengths, and a robust list of human virtues. Analyze the union of the two for shared characteristics and a deeper meaning.

Certainly! Let’s look at the intersection between the specific strengths from the Clifton StrengthsFinder that you provided (Achiever, Input, Learner, Activator, Belief) and a traditional list of virtues such as wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance, and transcendence.

ACHIEVER

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Achievers have a constant drive for accomplishing tasks. This can correlate with the virtue of courage, which involves persistence and vitality, and justice, where hard work and fairness contribute to the overall good of the community.

INPUT

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom

Explanation: People with the Input strength have a craving to know more, collecting and archiving information. This resonates with wisdom, which is characterized by a pursuit of knowledge and insightful judgment.

LEARNER

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom, Humanity

Explanation: A constant desire to improve and learn aligns with the virtue of wisdom. It may also align with humanity if the learning is directed towards understanding others and improving social bonds.

ACTIVATOR

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Activators are inclined to take action and want to make things happen. This aligns with courage, as it requires the boldness to initiate, and justice, where action may be directed towards equality and fairness.

BELIEF

Virtue Correlation: Transcendence, Justice

Explanation: The Belief strength is connected to core values and purpose. It aligns with transcendence, where there is a connection to something greater, and justice, where values often include fairness and equality.

Summary of Union (Intersection):

The union between these strengths and virtues reveals a strong emphasis on wisdom (through Input and Learner), courage (through Achiever and Activator), and justice (through Achiever, Activator, and Belief). The values of humanity and transcendence are also present but to a lesser extent.

This analysis suggests that a person with these strengths might be particularly well-suited for roles that require insightful judgment, bold action, and a strong sense of fairness and values. They may excel in leadership roles, educational fields, advocacy, or any area where wisdom, courage, and justice are paramount.

MASTER Forrest

To Angelina Musik-Comp:

I am deeply grateful for your stamina, patience, and support as my best friend and business partner. We have traveled the curves together in good cheer. You are amazingly resilient and a joyful character to explore with. I am grateful for your gift of HEALING matching my expression of UNDERSTANDING!

To you, the reader, and participant:

When I imagined this project, I had a hunch the cost would be years of commitment - but not five years. What you might not imagine is that it took me far less time and angst to create the Wellness by Choice syndication, and the Scotomaville syndication of nearly twenty five thousand websites. And now we have AI.

I believe “The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”. Fortunately AI still lacks subjective experiences, emotions, and self-reflective awareness - and thus our superpower of story-telling may yet be an error correcting trim-tab for super intelligent reasoning engines.

Cheers to YOUR Greatest Expedition!
