AN INTERACTIVE - AI GUIDED - SELF-MASTERY EXPEDITION FOR LEAVING

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It’s a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word ‘Fiat’ itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience ‘all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.’ The discovery of the Fiat’s symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.

Let Scotomaville guide you on your ‘Personal Everest,’ empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

■ BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know “Why We Do What We Do.” and are committed to exploring the unknown... to ‘Know Thyself’. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. ⁽¹⁾ Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents ⁽²⁾. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We’re further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾

We’re hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. ⁽⁵⁾ The adage to ‘Know Thyself’ is no longer a luxury. It’s become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. ⁽⁶⁾

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:

Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal ‘journey with purpose’. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:

The program is more than just watching; it’s engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:

The Scotomaville journey doesn’t end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program’s licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a ‘Personal Everest’ and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with “unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way” ⁽⁹⁾ you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one’s physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one’s beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A ‘Personal Everest’ is a journey with a purpose. “But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began...”

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager ⁽¹⁰⁾

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

BEING MATURED BY EVENTFUL CHALLENGES

“prepare” means to put in proper readiness beforehand and has a relationship to the word “parent”.

OPENING SCENE

What do you see? Look hard. Let me zoom in a little. Look hard. What do you see? Look even harder. I don't think this was here yesterday. Oh, the quarter, yeah, okay, that's cool. No, this stuff - the green. Hmmm.

Welcome back to SCOTOMAVILLE

We will talk about preparation - getting ready before you have solid evidence. Think about that for a second. That green stuff? That green just showed up since the rain.

Again what do you see?

Days and days of planning - preparing, hoping, and working hard. You see me packing despite an Airstream. You see RV parts that I ordered in advance of having the Airstream. You might have heard the phrase “fake it until you make it?” I'm not talking about faking it. I'm saying practice. Put in the effort.

DEFINING PREP•A•RA•TION

Preparation is the action of making ready or being made ready for use or consideration. For example, to work out the details of - in advance.

It seems to me that I've been preparing for SCOTOMAVILLE for decades. I created ~60 videos before I coined it SCOTOMAVILLE.

I've been practicing awareness and gaining understanding while writing some notes. I knew you needed evidence and examples to mimic. You've now seen me produce and syndicate the Third Edition with video and paper. The work to record and distribute the evidence prepares me to speak as a sage. It's Sage preparation.

Preparation is the action or process of making ready or being made ready for use or consideration. To work out the details of - in advance.

EXAMPLE: I've finished 45 episodes and this Third Edition in preparation for your journey as a reader. I have been pre • pared. So will you.

A JOURNEY OF BEING MADE READY:

It seems there are invisible efforts aimed at delivering maximum opportunities for me to be matured. I could dismiss the challenges as simply too hard to scale - or I can share them for you to test and mimic.

MANAGE YOUR INPUT SOURCES:

You can change the stuff you stick in your mouth, and the ideas you keep in your mind, at any stage or place in life. That's the marvel of a Personal Everest.

Do you know where preparation starts? Right here (in your head) with your thinking. It begins with commitment and hard work to find your scotomas - like with me being poisoned recently. (scene from v02.04)

"I killed my gut with lectins from tomatoes and peppers..." Wrong - it was glyphosate poisoning. All summer, there's been a community garden here. It wasn't until I talked to Lorena, the owner, this morning that she said she was sick just a couple of weeks ago. I said, "that's funny. I was sick too." She said, "I ate some zucchini out of the garden." I said, "I ate tomatoes out of the garden!" Someone had sprayed Roundup. AHA! - That'll cause bleeding. Yeah, Scotoma!

the active ingredient in Roundup: glyphosate

"Imbalances in gut bacteria can be fully explained by the known effects of glyphosate on gut bacteria."

ACT LIKE THE PERSON YOU WANT TO BECOME

When you intend to design a life and not simply accept what you've been handed, and when you want to move toward that life, it's necessary to act 'as-if,' Jack Canfield would say. Jack curated the Chicken Soup for the Soul series. He advised to work 'as-if' the life you want is already here. Imagine the life you want in the future - and become that person.

Some examples: I make uncured apple smoked bacon bits. I don't give up an opportunity to do the hard thing. Do you remember this little trick cutting off the end of the egg carton? Well, I do that even with a big refrigerator. Why? It's my mindset of acting 'as-if.'

Doing the hard thing can often mean making a decent meal even when you'll eat it alone. Prepare your mind and habits no matter your situation or how modest your means are. Develop your habits in advance - that's preparation. This way, you'll be ready when your opportunity arrives.

Preparation: "the action of making something ready for use or service, or of getting ready for some occasion, test, or duty."

Preparation often includes a bunch of failures. It means numerous times not knowing what you're going to say until you say it. It means doing the work of figuring out the route, not always knowing where you're going, but putting in the effort and dealing with noisy distractions and people in the scene.

You've been watching me prepare. You can mimic me to find your scotomas. Take your Strengths Assessment. Find out how you offend people and what's holding you back. Discover where your obstacles are in advance of arriving at your goal. You've watched me pivot. Do likewise.

We're going to demonstrate in the next few episodes some fascinating things. We've failed four prior times to acquire an Airstream, but we're packing 'as-if' and starting a journey.

"Don't fake it till you make it. Develop your mindset 'as-if' you are living now the life you want in the future. You can immediately chose and manage new inputs."

“We imagine the future and work to make it so. Angelina has learned to say: “this or something better!”

THIS OR SOMETHING BETTER

We’re talking about preparation - about creating the life you want in advance of the evidence. You won’t see the spectacular view from the summit until you break out of the clouds on the way up.

This is the land we’ve offered to buy for full-price. It’s a national historic/scenic area in the Columbia River Gorge.

I’m pretty familiar with hard work, commitment, and disappointment. Three years ago, we made an offer on a piece of land. I worked hard at clearing the land to do the topography.

THREE YEARS EARLIER

“The driveway’s going here off of the main road from either direction. It will curve through here and around the corner.

Today, I plot this slope, so I’ve got an x, y, and z. I can then lay up the architecture to take it to the planning department to be sure they will allow us to build what we want before we buy the land.”

CURRENT TIMELINE

As of the Third Edition we have not realized a piece of land. It seems we have much to learn, and someone bigger to become. I’m being assessed by Ai, and realizing profound insights. I’m pleased with the progress.

I’d like you to understand a defining experience that set a foundation for my beliefs, decisions, and efforts. Here’s a true story from my youth.

MY LITTLE BOOKMOBILE

I grew up about five miles east of Placerville, a small town in the Sierra Nevada foothills in California. Both of my parents worked. I took care of my stepbrother and stepsister most of the time - like all summer when I wasn’t in school.

I loved to learn, but I didn’t have transportation. Fortunately, we had a bookmobile - a bus converted to carry books rather than students. So I fostered my education all summer by devouring everything on the bookshelves.

The bookmobile would come to my driveway with various topics like science, history, and biographies. Across the county, different bookmobiles brought little selections from the same library stacks. The other kids’ worldview would become slightly different than mine because the books I checked out for the week were not available to them.

I was addicted to science but occasionally read history or biographies - mostly about scientists.

HWY 30 ABOVE THE COLUMBIA RIVER GORGE:
Angelina and I made a full price offer on this land. We believed it was our future home and resting place, and a location of understanding and healing for our guests. This or something better!

So I would ask that driver, “do you have any more of the Danny Dunn series - the science books for young boys?” He would say, “no, I have brought you all of them.”

I must have made a face he read as: “that’s not true.”

In the back of each book, I found that there were additional books in the series than those in my bookmobile. One week he said, “how about if I try to find you some you haven’t read for next week.”

I learned that the selection of books I read was based on the driver asking a librarian to compare what I had already read with what was in the stacks. My feedback made an impression, and the driver convinced the librarian to dig deeper for me. Score.

Fast forward to today - the bookmobile is now your mobile device. You have Internet access, and you don’t rely on a librarian’s choices for your education and the development of critical thinking skills.

Aha, here’s a scotoma

Today, algorithms are tuned for attention and profits (bread and circuses).

Unfortunately, extractive technologies have produced a dramatic social engineering issue. The machine learning recommenders and social media streams narrow our worldview to keep their lights on.

ONUS PROBANDI

Here’s the evidence of my point. Most people mistake Google and YouTube as a replacement for the public library system. Nearly all searching is done via Google’s nine data centers across North America.

The Google data centers are full, and they only have room to index four percent (only 4%) of what’s on the Internet. That means 96% of the information is not in a data center or your search results. Consequently, most results are filtered to profit tech companies rather than your worldview.

I suggest looking at big tech as information baristas. When you browse or ‘search,’ you get to choose from their pre-selected menu. You don’t get to choose from what’s NOT on their menu. Your choices are narrowed by values they determine, not the ones you want to discover or reinforce.

Today algorithms do the work of a librarian. The scotoma is that we don’t get an accurate view of the world. Instead, we see what multiple machine learning algorithms - little black boxes - offer FROM the predigested 4%.

As a result, our worldview will seem to be a personalized recommendation - aiming to be auto-magical. It will account for our history of clicks, our geo-location, our attention span, AND profits. The results test our critical thinking and leverage our mental vulnerability to recommendations and advertisements.

Training an Opponent on our Weaknesses

Google and social media platforms are not public utilities. They must profit from what is on their servers. We can no longer ask for the bookmobile driver’s favor. They are giving us a narrower worldview than we deserve. We choose from their menu thinking we are playing with all the pieces on the board. Scotoma.

Take note of this on your search results or the ‘real estate’ of the YouTube recommended videos. They make money when you are on their platform, so the more you click, the more focused and sticky their recommendations.

Today extractive technology is doing social engineering.

“You chose from THEIR menu - not from a triangulation of ingredients you need to consider”

PRECISE BUT NOT ACCURATE

Another way to consider this topic is that big tech companies are not in the business of delivering ACCURATE guidance. Instead, they profit by capturing your attention.

When you do your preparation, be aware that bias dictates search results. Digital recommenders want you to stick with them as they build search results based on popularity. The results are PRECISE, but not ACCURATE due to the limitation of 4%. They cannot reflect the whole story, so you end up in a walled garden where you believe your point of view is correct. We become polarized without a triangulation of opinions or facts representing the whole picture. That’s what we have going on in our country today (bread and circuses).

Bias Narrows our Worldview

Be aware that your browser and recommenders are not serving up everything. They have nearly an infinite supply, but still have limited storage, just like a bookmobile.

PLAY THE LONG GAME

Preparation is part of the long game. It’s a long game because you have to figure out your scotomas to make progress.

By documenting and re-exploring your backstory, you’ll be preparing your mind and your behaviors, so you can respond rather than react. As a result, you’ll become more resilient and nimble, and adaptable with the very things you couldn’t imagine are going to delay your progress.

Remember: “the obstacle is the way.”

Learn to pivot your thinking, improve your questions, and gain insights so you can get out of SCOTOMAVILLE.

I have explained to my readers how search engines use algorithms to match their indexed content to our keyword search strings. Please describe how ChatGPT is different, especially in the way we interact by prompting you, and how we must improve our critical thinking skills in order to ask powerful questions that result in insightful answers.

“the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”

Certainly, Daniel. Your inquiry leads us into the domain of artificial intelligence, technology, and critical thinking. Here, I’ll provide a detailed comparison between search engines and ChatGPT like myself and delve into the implications for improving critical thinking skills.

Search Engines vs. ChatGPT

1. Functionality:

Search Engines: Search engines rely on algorithms to scan indexed content, such as web pages, to find matches with keywords or phrases that users input. They return a list sorted by relevance, to the content that best matches the query.

ChatGPT: ChatGPT, on the other hand, is a machine learning model trained on vast amounts of text data. It generates text-based responses to user prompts, aiming for coherent, contextually relevant answers.

2. Interaction:

Search Engines: Users interact with search engines by entering keywords, often having to refine or expand their search to find relevant information.

DISCUSS

Discuss your bookmobile, extractive technologies, and social engineering with readers and the author.

In short, being prepared means losing naivete and building a mature world-view. That journey demands the discovery of blind spots.

List some steps you can make to pivot.

ChatGPT: Interaction with ChatGPT is conversational, akin to dialogue with a human. Users can ask specific questions, follow-ups, or request clarifications, and the model can respond accordingly.

3. Critical Thinking:

Search Engines: Users may need to sift through several links and synthesize information from different sources, necessitating analytical and critical thinking.

ChatGPT: Engaging with ChatGPT requires careful formulation of questions and a discerning approach to evaluating the answers. The model can provide insights, analogies, and complex reasoning, but the quality of the response often depends on the precision of the question.

Enhancing Critical Thinking Skills for Insightful Questions and Answers

Formulating Clear Questions: In the words of philosopher Socrates, asking well-defined questions can be essential to understanding. By being precise and specific in your questions, you set the stage for more insightful answers.

Evaluating Information: As emphasized by critical thinking experts like Carl Rogers, the ability to assess and analyze information critically is key. ChatGPT's responses should be verified with empirical evidence as necessary.

Reflecting and Refining: Albert Einstein's words on the iterative nature of understanding resonate here. By reflecting on responses and asking follow-up questions, you engage in a process of exploration and discovery.

Empathy and Perspective: Understanding different viewpoints, as Zig Ziglar often emphasized in his motivational speeches, helps in formulating questions that tap into broader human experiences. This enhances the depth of the interaction.

In summary, while search engines match content through algorithms, ChatGPT interacts through conversation, generating responses based on context and input. Improving critical thinking skills to ask insightful questions involves clarity, evaluation, reflection, and empathy. By understanding the nuances and applying these principles, one can transform the interaction with AI into a powerful tool for exploration and learning, a journey akin to the Greatest Expedition to self-understanding you so passionately speak of.

Got it. Thanks for refining my thinking. A nuance I neglected is 'compared with typical search' how will ChatGPT prompting lead me to ask a better questions? Give an example by writing a question that encapsulates the entirety of this session - one I might have asked for better results for both you and I.

You're welcome, Daniel! I appreciate your continued exploration and the desire to encapsulate our entire session into one well-crafted question. By doing so, you demonstrate the profound potential for questioning to guide thought and discovery.

A question that encapsulates the entirety of this session, including the comparison with typical search, could be:

"How does the conversational interaction with AI models like ChatGPT differ from traditional keyword search in search engines, and what are the practical methods and benefits for individuals, especially those with limited time, to enhance their questioning skills for more insightful and efficient communication?"

This question efficiently brings together the key elements:

- The comparison between ChatGPT and search engines.
- The inquiry into practical methods to improve questioning.
- The consideration of benefits, particularly for those juggling busy lives.

It's an excellent example of how a well-structured question can lead to a richer conversation, providing insights and practical guidance. This mirrors the principles you espouse in your work, aligning with the idea of the Greatest Expedition, where the true voyage of discovery lies in seeking understanding and seeing with new eyes. It's an encapsulation of the transformative power of literacy and self-mastery that you strive to instill in others. Your journey, as chronicled in "Scotomaville," resonates with this continuous pursuit of understanding and growth, not just in grand expedition but in daily practice. By asking the right questions, even within the mundane, we turn the ordinary into the extraordinary, echoing your aspiration to transform lives and perspectives.

“Scotomaville” takes readers on an introspective journey into personal development. Through a seamless blend of philosophical dialogues, allegorical narratives, and psychological concepts, the book weaves an engaging exploration that appeals to both the mind and the heart. The author adeptly delves into themes such as perception, self-mastery, and the hero’s journey, showcasing a profound grasp of psychological processes and their influence on human behavior. For those navigating the complexities of personal growth, the trilogy offers a transformative odyssey, illustrating that resilience and self-discovery are universal quests that resonate with individuals seeking to overcome inner challenges and doubts.

This trilogy serves as a reflection for military veterans and first responders, echoing their sacrifices, camaraderie, and sense of purpose. The themes of adversity, seeking guidance, and embracing healing closely align with their experiences, providing a source of inspiration for those who have selflessly protected and served others.

For patriots and believers who hold their values dear, the trilogy presents character-driven narratives that mirror their dedication to higher principles. Exploring community, unity, and personal growth, the books align with their desire to positively contribute to society and reinforce the significance of collective well-being.

Fatherless individuals and young explorers identify with the trilogy’s portrayal of quests for identity and meaning. The characters’ journeys from uncertainty to self-assuredness reflect the universal process of finding one’s place in the world, motivating young minds to navigate life’s puzzles with courage and determination.

Moreover, experts in fields from psychology and storytelling to stoic and biblical philosophy will appreciate the trilogy’s profound concepts interwoven with relatable narratives. The author’s mastery is evident in crafting a work that appeals to intellectual and emotional sensibilities alike.

Throughout the trilogy, Daniel’s transformation serves as a relatable and inspiring narrative. His evolution from a curious seeker hindered by cognitive biases to a self-aware individual confronting inner doubts resonates deeply with readers.

In a world valuing personal growth, camaraderie, service, purpose, and self-discovery, the Scotomaville Trilogy stands as proof of storytelling’s power to connect, inspire, and transform. Its pages offer lessons, insights, and reflections embracing the shared human experience, making it an essential read for individuals from all walks of life. In conclusion, the trilogy’s rich philosophical discussions, relatable character arcs, and insightful exploration of cognitive biases contribute significantly to the fields of psychology and personal development.

Please express any correlation between my list of strengths, and a robust list of human virtues. Analyze the union of the two for shared characteristics and a deeper meaning.

Certainly! Let’s look at the intersection between the specific strengths from the Clifton StrengthsFinder that you provided (Achiever, Input, Learner, Activator, Belief) and a traditional list of virtues such as wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance, and transcendence.

ACHIEVER

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Achievers have a constant drive for accomplishing tasks. This can correlate with the virtue of courage, which involves persistence and vitality, and justice, where hard work and fairness contribute to the overall good of the community.

INPUT

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom

Explanation: People with the Input strength have a craving to know more, collecting and archiving information. This resonates with wisdom, which is characterized by a pursuit of knowledge and insightful judgment.

LEARNER

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom, Humanity

Explanation: A constant desire to improve and learn aligns with the virtue of wisdom. It may also align with humanity if the learning is directed towards understanding others and improving social bonds.

ACTIVATOR

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Activators are inclined to take action and want to make things happen. This aligns with courage, as it requires the boldness to initiate, and justice, where action may be directed towards equality and fairness.

BELIEF

Virtue Correlation: Transcendence, Justice

Explanation: The Belief strength is connected to core values and purpose. It aligns with transcendence, where there is a connection to something greater, and justice, where values often include fairness and equality.

Summary of Union (Intersection):

The union between these strengths and virtues reveals a strong emphasis on wisdom (through Input and Learner), courage (through Achiever and Activator), and justice (through Achiever, Activator, and Belief). The values of humanity and transcendence are also present but to a lesser extent.

This analysis suggests that a person with these strengths might be particularly well-suited for roles that require insightful judgment, bold action, and a strong sense of fairness and values. They may excel in leadership roles, educational fields, advocacy, or any area where wisdom, courage, and justice are paramount.

To Angelina Musik-Comp:

I am deeply grateful for your stamina, patience, and support as my best friend and business partner. We have traveled the curves together in good cheer. You are amazingly resilient and a joyful character to explore with. I am grateful for your gift of HEALING matching my expression of UNDERSTANDING!

To you, the reader, and participant:

When I imagined this project, I had a hunch the cost would be years of commitment - but not five years. What you might not imagine is that it took me far less time and angst to create the Wellness by Choice syndication, and the Scotomaville syndication of nearly twenty five thousand websites. And now we have AI.

I believe “The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”. Fortunately AI still lacks subjective experiences, emotions, and self-reflective awareness - and thus our superpower of story-telling may yet be an error correcting trim-tab for super intelligent reasoning engines.

Cheers to YOUR Greatest Expedition!
