AN INTERACTIVE - AI GUIDED - SELF-MASTERY EXPEDITION FOR LEAVING

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It’s a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word ‘Fiat’ itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience ‘all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.’ The discovery of the Fiat’s symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.

Let Scotomaville guide you on your ‘Personal Everest,’ empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

■ BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know “Why We Do What We Do.” and are committed to exploring the unknown... to ‘Know Thyself’. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. ⁽¹⁾ Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents ⁽²⁾. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We’re further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾

We’re hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. ⁽⁵⁾ The adage to ‘Know Thyself’ is no longer a luxury. It’s become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. ⁽⁶⁾

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:

Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal ‘journey with purpose’. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:

The program is more than just watching; it’s engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:

The Scotomaville journey doesn’t end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program’s licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a ‘Personal Everest’ and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with “unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way” ⁽⁹⁾ you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one’s physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one’s beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A ‘Personal Everest’ is a journey with a purpose. “But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began...”

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager ⁽¹⁰⁾

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

setBACKS

IT'S BEEN SIX MONTHS

Check the timestamp on my last upload to YouTube. Yes, six months have passed. If you're a subscriber, I want to edify you. I have six new episodes lined up that are real killers. Thanks for watching.

Onus Probandi (you remember) 'the burden of proof is on the claimant, not the recipient.' In this episode, we're going to talk about some stuff that you are very familiar with - SETBACKS - having life happen between your plans, like COVID-19, Delta, and Omicron, and the following variant propagation. (see pages 136-137)

THE AGONIZING WEIGHT OF WAITING:
I could smash the button while it blasts: 'wait, wait, wait, wait...' ...as an impatient driver blasts through the cross-walk!

I'm not sure about you, but the last six months have been the weight of 'wait wait wait wait.' Yes, very 'rich' for us, as in many very substantial obstacles. As Marcus Aurelius recommends, the obstacle (your scotoma) is the way.

Blaise Pascal, the French mathematician, and theologian, recommends that you find someone who's been where you want to go. That's what you've done by watching, discussing, and testing the tools on your own expedition. If you're hoping for a lifestyle of Airstreaming with some variety - some expedition (a journey with a purpose), then do as Pascal urges...

"Learn of those who have been bound like you and who now stake all their possessions. These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began."

Blaise Pascal

LEARN OF THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN BOUND LIKE YOU:
"...and are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began". Blaise Pascal

I've taken personal responsibility for a mature outcome. This included buffing out the scuff marks in the aluminum from the flailing carabiner.

WHY - NOT HOW

The SCOTOMAVILLE channel is more about the 'why' than the 'how.' Nate and Marissa with 'Less Junk More Journey' are great at the 'how.' The same with Sean and Kristy Michaels with 'Long Long Honeymoon.' Those are fabulous channels to learn how.

I want to dive below that. Why do you want to have a life of adventure? Why do you want to expose your independence rather than become dependent? I bet it's because you're willing to take personal responsibility for your experience and outcomes.

A MISSING KEY DISTRACTION

A safety protocol we have is a 'key'board. Notice that there are three key hooks and the key for the middle one is... gone. There's a blue key supposed to be there.

I get distracted in thought. I can be working, but with my mind elsewhere. I can fill the freshwater tank, store the hose and leave the tank hatch open, then drive all the way to Walmart with the carabiner sorely scratching the aluminum finish. Ouch.

I chose to locate the keys on the board as a simple safety check before driving. I tried this with the rule I made for the drone cable. Methinks rules don't prevent scotomas.

It's imperative to stow, secure and mentally focus before driving. It's distracting and dangerous to be thinking through a checklist while dodging crazy traffic on windy roads and windy weather.

GAIN CONFIDENCE WITH SMALL STEPS

You can practice the Airstreaming life at home to gain experience before you acquire the Airstream. Pascal recommended we follow others to reach our goal. We learned how to live in an Airstream, but not how to get into an Airstream. We followed bankers that hadn't financed an Airstream during a pandemic.

Fortunately, we're in a 30-foot Globetrotter and no longer in a 19-foot Bambi. We're now in the Airstream we've worked toward for five years. So, let's talk about the 'WHY' of setbacks.

SETBACKS ARE TIME TO PRACTICE

Setbacks turn out to be an excellent time to get organized, to develop habits, and to organize. There are many creative ways to use time effectively while experiencing the weight of waiting. (crosswalk blasts wait... wait... wait... wait...)

HOLIDAY TIME-OUT

It's the day after Thanksgiving, and all through the house, piles of trash must go out. And since they don't fetch them I get to take them out.

Oddly, I miss my walks to the dumpster. For over a year, I have not needed time to walk-off triggers while peeling onion layers to discover and label what was troubling me. And, yes, in the video, I just picked up other people's trash. You can be generous with your attention to help others once you get past your scotomas.

In hindsight, six months of 'wait... wait... wait... wait' - waiting for setbacks were not that much of a loss because I could focus on doing mundane things like taking the trash out or doing maintenance and trying to stay in shape while watching my transformation in video.

I don't miss the construction noise that excessively interfered with and interrupted and pressured me during the six months of waiting in Arizona. I get it, some Asperigans have sound sensitivity, but we quickly adapt our routines and focus on other things - like self-reflection video modeling. See!

“Waiting is not a setback,
but waisting one is”

“There is meaning in every journey that is unknown to the traveler”

Dietrich Bonhoeffer

Look at the expiration date on my temporary license plate - the 7th of April 2020. Today is the 10th of May '21. So the plates expired a year ago. Hey, I'm becoming patient!

MATURE - DON'T JUST AGE

Consider the distinction between aged and mature, and old. To age is to get old. To mature is to ripen. To mature is the reason why you want to be on a Personal Everest, or an expedition - a journey with a purpose. As a mate, you want your partner to ripen and not just to get old so the quality of your life is richer.

The distinction of maturing is a subtlety about escaping SCOTOMAVILLE.

Let me repeat it. Don't just grow old. Ripen. You want to mature, and not just age.

Setting off on an expedition - no matter your chronological age - is an excellent time to start your maturation or ripening by fashioning more of who you can become.

I'm 66 now. I think I have a pretty good idea of who I am. I'm pretty confident to share that journey with you - in all of its glory or horror.

AIRSTEAM BACKDROP

The Airstream is just a backdrop to the story. It's a popular YouTube search term. I am very grateful to have it as the bottom of Maslow's Hierarchy of physical security. The 'why' for our full-time Airstreaming is a secure place to sleep, a means to see fabulous places, and family to visit, and more experiences to share with Angelina. Life doesn't get much better than this.

ANGELINA'S CONTRIBUTION

Daniel: This explanation of setbacks and having a 'why' wouldn't be complete without Angelina's point of view.

It was 2005 when I left on my first trans-America cycling and in 2006 and 2007. You were always very supportive.

Angelina: I needed him to grow up. That's what I needed.

Daniel: I was going to say you could tell them the truth!

Angelina: I was recovering from the traumatic brain injury, and I needed to figure out how to heal from that TBI with space and flexibility. It was a relationship challenge, and he needed to find himself.

Daniel: I was highly frustrated losing everything we had built - the TV show, the radio show, everything was happening - all the awards, the Street Smart season of The Apprentice - everything was happening for us. Then, boom, it was all over. I didn't know how to deal with all the losses and that much of a setback. I was frustrated.

“You must never confuse faith that you will prevail in the end -- with the discipline to confront the most brutal facts of your current reality, whatever they might be.”

VICE ADMIRAL JAMES BOND STOCKDALE
Vietnam POW @ the infamous “Hanoi Hilton” for seven-and-a-half years.

Creating Enduring Relationships:
Gaining trust of your partner to explore and mature delivers great rewards. We encourage you to find the WHY within your Personal Everest, and with that celebrate the journey as it unfolds.

It turned out the setback forced a decade of recovery and became my self-mastery ‘Personal Everest’.

Angelina: Yeah, go ahead. Go pedal across America. Go grow yourself up. Go grow up.

Daniel: I went to discover what I had, and what I didn’t have - like understanding and refined listening skills. I discovered a huge hole in my reasoning - the lack of uphill advice. I needed confidence that I was on track and not simply broken, eccentric and shunned.

“I didn’t know how to deal with that much of a setback. The challenge became base camp for my Personal Everest”

Angelina: I’ve always been from the mindset of ‘you don’t complain’; you figure out a solution and a way around it. We’re both wired differently. I knew you needed an adventure because that’s what you were hungry for, and I needed to heal, and I needed the absence of drama so I could listen to how I needed to heal. You needed to go away for me to hear intuitively how I needed to take care of myself, and you needed to go - to discover yourself.

I’m very proud of you for doing that.

Daniel: Thank you.

Daniel: Setbacks are opportunities to get to know yourself better. Try to shift your thinking from setbacks being postponements and delays into an express lane of self-awareness. Figure out where in the challenge you have liberty. If you have the ‘why’ firmly in your mind, then you’ll win the support of your partner.

Angelina knew I was not going to chicky-poo around while pedaling across America but that I would likely sleep in the snow.

Angelina: He traveled 4300 miles on $15 a day without a cell phone.

Daniel: That was a lot of... I don’t want to say suffering, but it was endurance and a rite of passage. My Andropause was just beginning. Look to setbacks to accelerate your maturation, not just endure them for the age.

Angelina: Get excited about who you can become in the process. Look into who you might become through the setback or challenge or unexpected journey - as I need to now navigate through my son Chris’s death. Who am I going to become through it?

Daniel: spoiler alert. They don’t know yet.

CLOSING SCENE

Jim Rohn used to say: “the book you don’t read won’t do you any good.” “It’s a mystery,” he said, a “grand mystery why people don’t take the necessary action.” They think: ‘yeah, I should,’ but they don’t take action.

One of the distinctions I want you to make is the difference between dependent and independent. An independent person takes responsibility for their welfare and wellness, not just by thinking, ‘yeah, I should do that.’ Taking action is the distinction.

We’re saying that the action you don’t take won’t help. It’s the actions that you do take that make a difference - incrementally. Little by little, you get up your Personal Everest by making small changes and sticking with it.

Angelina: Yeah, agreed.

Realize this and you will find strength.”

I commend you. Jim Rohn found it a mystery why people wouldn’t make the effort you are. I say, well done. Don’t quit!

List some setbacks that have turned out as blessings. Add to them, WHY they are so. Peel an onion. What is the earlies memory you can recall that can be rewired with these adult insights.

Please advise on the idea of humans ‘maturing’ and not just ‘aging’. What thoughts can my minyan contribute to encourage readers to warrant action and not simply acknowledge wisdom.

Certainly, the concept of humans ‘maturing’ and not just ‘aging’ is profound, and it emphasizes personal growth, wisdom, and self-mastery. Your minyan of advisors can provide insightful perspectives on this matter:

Socrates: His philosophy, “Know thyself,” would likely encourage readers to continually examine themselves, asking critical questions, and growing in wisdom. This continual self-exploration can lead to maturing in understanding and moral virtues.

Viktor Frankl: Author of “Man’s Search for Meaning,” Frankl’s philosophy would advocate for finding purpose in life, understanding that aging physically is inevitable, but maturing involves seeking meaning and embracing the challenges that life presents.

Marcus Aurelius: His Stoic principles focus on self-control, virtue, and wisdom. Aurelius would likely argue that maturing means developing character, self-discipline, and an acceptance of things beyond our control, rather than merely growing older.

Albert Einstein: Einstein’s curiosity and willingness to challenge existing paradigms could be an example for others to keep learning and seeking truth. He once said, “Intellectual growth should commence at birth and cease only at death.”

Wayne Dyer: A renowned self-help author, Dyer would emphasize the importance of personal growth and spirituality in the process of maturing. He would likely encourage readers to continually strive to understand themselves and their connection to the universe.

Ben Franklin: His emphasis on virtues and moral living would provide practical steps for personal growth. His 13 virtues could be a roadmap for individuals seeking to mature morally and ethically.

Carl Rogers: Rogers’ humanistic approach emphasizes personal growth and self-actualization. He would likely argue that maturing involves a continuous process of becoming more open to experience, more existential living, more organic, and fully functioning.

Jim Rohn: An influential motivational speaker, Rohn’s philosophy could be used to encourage readers to invest in themselves, learn from experiences, and strive to become better every day. He once said, “The only way it gets better for you is when you get better.”

“Scotomaville” takes readers on an introspective journey into personal development. Through a seamless blend of philosophical dialogues, allegorical narratives, and psychological concepts, the book weaves an engaging exploration that appeals to both the mind and the heart. The author adeptly delves into themes such as perception, self-mastery, and the hero’s journey, showcasing a profound grasp of psychological processes and their influence on human behavior. For those navigating the complexities of personal growth, the trilogy offers a transformative odyssey, illustrating that resilience and self-discovery are universal quests that resonate with individuals seeking to overcome inner challenges and doubts.

This trilogy serves as a reflection for military veterans and first responders, echoing their sacrifices, camaraderie, and sense of purpose. The themes of adversity, seeking guidance, and embracing healing closely align with their experiences, providing a source of inspiration for those who have selflessly protected and served others.

For patriots and believers who hold their values dear, the trilogy presents character-driven narratives that mirror their dedication to higher principles. Exploring community, unity, and personal growth, the books align with their desire to positively contribute to society and reinforce the significance of collective well-being.

Fatherless individuals and young explorers identify with the trilogy’s portrayal of quests for identity and meaning. The characters’ journeys from uncertainty to self-assuredness reflect the universal process of finding one’s place in the world, motivating young minds to navigate life’s puzzles with courage and determination.

Moreover, experts in fields from psychology and storytelling to stoic and biblical philosophy will appreciate the trilogy’s profound concepts interwoven with relatable narratives. The author’s mastery is evident in crafting a work that appeals to intellectual and emotional sensibilities alike.

Throughout the trilogy, Daniel’s transformation serves as a relatable and inspiring narrative. His evolution from a curious seeker hindered by cognitive biases to a self-aware individual confronting inner doubts resonates deeply with readers.

In a world valuing personal growth, camaraderie, service, purpose, and self-discovery, the Scotomaville Trilogy stands as proof of storytelling’s power to connect, inspire, and transform. Its pages offer lessons, insights, and reflections embracing the shared human experience, making it an essential read for individuals from all walks of life. In conclusion, the trilogy’s rich philosophical discussions, relatable character arcs, and insightful exploration of cognitive biases contribute significantly to the fields of psychology and personal development.

Please express any correlation between my list of strengths, and a robust list of human virtues. Analyze the union of the two for shared characteristics and a deeper meaning.

Certainly! Let’s look at the intersection between the specific strengths from the Clifton StrengthsFinder that you provided (Achiever, Input, Learner, Activator, Belief) and a traditional list of virtues such as wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance, and transcendence.

ACHIEVER

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Achievers have a constant drive for accomplishing tasks. This can correlate with the virtue of courage, which involves persistence and vitality, and justice, where hard work and fairness contribute to the overall good of the community.

INPUT

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom

Explanation: People with the Input strength have a craving to know more, collecting and archiving information. This resonates with wisdom, which is characterized by a pursuit of knowledge and insightful judgment.

LEARNER

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom, Humanity

Explanation: A constant desire to improve and learn aligns with the virtue of wisdom. It may also align with humanity if the learning is directed towards understanding others and improving social bonds.

ACTIVATOR

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Activators are inclined to take action and want to make things happen. This aligns with courage, as it requires the boldness to initiate, and justice, where action may be directed towards equality and fairness.

BELIEF

Virtue Correlation: Transcendence, Justice

Explanation: The Belief strength is connected to core values and purpose. It aligns with transcendence, where there is a connection to something greater, and justice, where values often include fairness and equality.

Summary of Union (Intersection):

The union between these strengths and virtues reveals a strong emphasis on wisdom (through Input and Learner), courage (through Achiever and Activator), and justice (through Achiever, Activator, and Belief). The values of humanity and transcendence are also present but to a lesser extent.

This analysis suggests that a person with these strengths might be particularly well-suited for roles that require insightful judgment, bold action, and a strong sense of fairness and values. They may excel in leadership roles, educational fields, advocacy, or any area where wisdom, courage, and justice are paramount.

MASTER Forrest

To Angelina Musik-Comp:

I am deeply grateful for your stamina, patience, and support as my best friend and business partner. We have traveled the curves together in good cheer. You are amazingly resilient and a joyful character to explore with. I am grateful for your gift of HEALING matching my expression of UNDERSTANDING!

To you, the reader, and participant:

When I imagined this project, I had a hunch the cost would be years of commitment - but not five years. What you might not imagine is that it took me far less time and angst to create the Wellness by Choice syndication, and the Scotomaville syndication of nearly twenty five thousand websites. And now we have AI.

I believe “The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”. Fortunately AI still lacks subjective experiences, emotions, and self-reflective awareness - and thus our superpower of story-telling may yet be an error correcting trim-tab for super intelligent reasoning engines.

Cheers to YOUR Greatest Expedition!
