AN INTERACTIVE - AI GUIDED - SELF-MASTERY EXPEDITION FOR LEAVING

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It’s a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word ‘Fiat’ itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience ‘all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.’ The discovery of the Fiat’s symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.

Let Scotomaville guide you on your ‘Personal Everest,’ empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

■ BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know “Why We Do What We Do.” and are committed to exploring the unknown... to ‘Know Thyself’. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. ⁽¹⁾ Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents ⁽²⁾. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We’re further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾

We’re hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. ⁽⁵⁾ The adage to ‘Know Thyself’ is no longer a luxury. It’s become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. ⁽⁶⁾

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:

Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal ‘journey with purpose’. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:

The program is more than just watching; it’s engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:

The Scotomaville journey doesn’t end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program’s licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a ‘Personal Everest’ and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with “unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way” ⁽⁹⁾ you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one’s physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one’s beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A ‘Personal Everest’ is a journey with a purpose. “But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began...”

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager ⁽¹⁰⁾

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

strategy

Welcome to the Pacific Northwest. We plan to build memories playing with family while enjoying the cooler temperatures for a few months.

We came to the Central Gorge and Hood River/Mosier, our home base, to spend some time foiling on the river, but the weather isn't cooperating with our plans. A cold front blew in like crazy and dropped the temperature by nearly 30 degrees.

The great thing about having a strategy is shifting your plans and still pursuing your desired outcome. In this episode, I will differentiate Planning from Strategy. When I vividly imagine the best outcome and have them postponed or delayed, the emotions are intense, which trigger amygdala hijackings and tizzy fits.

My cheese is constantly moved, but it turns out that having an excellent strategy can interrupt the cascading emotions. You've watched this since the early episodes at Lake Pleasant were interrupted with constant noise, airplanes, and drag boats. I'm far less upended or triggered by interruptions now than before starting this expedition.

TRANSFORMATION STRATEGY KEY POINTS

- Incremental Changes substantially accelerate personal transformation
- Small Things Matter - becoming aware and responding to subtleties counts
- Onus Probandi - we're demonstrating change with personal examples

Angelina: What are you doing?

Daniel: What am I doing? I'm putting the... [Emergency Warning System] ATTENTION! this is only a test. This is a test of the warning system. This is only a test. There's no emergency...

Angelina: You were saying?

Daniel: (covering his ears) Oh, that is so loud. You can hear it echoing around the lake... "this is only a test... Esto es solo una prueba."

I was going to say that whenever you try to work on something, 'life happens between your plans' (the warning system blares). This is what I was going to show you. Look closely.

What do you see?

Angelina: Oh no.

"Our greatest weapon against stress is our ability to chose one thought over another" William James

“STRATEGY TRUMPS PLANNING, IT TACKLES THE QUESTION ‘WHY’? IT COMES TO TERMS WITH THE WHOLE SITUATION”

You’ve repeatedly heard me say that you should segment grapefruit, cut your egg cartons, or improve your meals. The reason for that is to practice and refine your Strategy. As you go about doing your thing in the morning - a routine that you have for a well-balanced diet for your microbiome - then here will come the intrusions - like the noise of your RV neighbor firing up their huge diesel before they leave. I’ve started embracing the intrusions because I realized a strategy is bigger than planning. Strategy tackles WHY

Strategy has a large scope and looks at the end results and the many paths to the desired outcome. A strategy looks at every possible influencing factor, both seen and unforeseen, and comes to terms with the whole situation - not just one result.

A plan says; here are the steps, while a strategy says; here are the best steps. Strategy speaks to the reasons WHY while the plan is focused on HOW.

- WHY outweighs HOW
- Strategy is BIGGER than a plan
- Strategy deals with the situation

Strategy is about understanding your environment and making choices about what you will do. Think, if you like, of where and how to play. Planning is about making choices inside your Strategy - about how to use the resources you have and the actions you will take.

EATING AN ELEPHANT

Let me try to emphasize the difference between strategy and planning suggesting something absurd - like eating an elephant.

“When eating an elephant take one bite at a time. Clearly no one is encouraging dining on these animals but it’s good advice about how to tackle a huge overwhelming project - like the climb to success.”

“Desmond Tutu said the way to eat an elephant - a bite at a time. What he meant by this is that everything in life that seems daunting, overwhelming, and even impossible can be accomplished gradually by taking on just a little at a time.”

Francis of Assisi on how to eat an elephant: “start by doing what’s necessary, then do what’s possible and suddenly you are doing the impossible.”

LITTLE BY LITTLE INCREMENTALLY

Angelina: [crawling under table and stuck between the seating and the table]

Daniel: I think you need a better strategy. You’re trying to crawl underneath the table.

Angelina: I am.

Daniel: How’s that working out for you?

Angelina: My boobs are getting stuck. Okay. I had this idea that I would move my desk.

Daniel: If you break the table what good is that. Now you’re stuck halfway.

Angelina: I am. Now if I can turn myself around.

Daniel: I think that is the question. Is this why you play hoppers? So that you can test ideas in the physical world?

Angelina: I wanted to have a better setup for my desk so I didn’t have to go around.

Daniel: Hang on hang on you’re gonna break something... Let me...

Angelina: Ta-dah. See.

Daniel: You gotta be kidding me. Resilience. Stubbornness.

Angelina: But it worked.

Daniel: Ladies can you practice this at home. Crawl under the table rather than walk around to your chair!

Angelina: I didn’t want you to move out of the way. I needed to figure it out on my own.

EATING YOUR AIRPLANE

To raise the bar of what’s possible beyond anything you’d imagine for your own life, let’s look at this Guinness World Record holder who ate an entire airplane bite-by-bite. He ate two pounds per day. His name was Michael Lotito, and he was nicknamed Monsieur Mangetout. Manget-out means ‘eat it all.’ Mr’ eat it all’ ate about 900 grams of whatever it was a day. Over his lifetime, his diet (since 1969) included 18 bicycles, 15 supermarket trolleys, 7 TV sets, six chandeliers, two beds, a pair of skis, a low-calorie Cessna light aircraft, and a computer. He also ate a coffin. By 1997, he had eaten nearly nine tons of metal, but he said funny enough that bananas and hard-boiled eggs made him sick.

I’m not going to recommend that you eat an Airstream, but I will make my point that if you wanted to, you could do it - incrementally.

Think about what’s challenging your Personal Everest. If you’re trying to live a healthier life, lose weight or gain weight, make progress on your finances or your financial score, or maybe get a new job, whatever that might be in your life, think about incremental progress bite-by-bite.

If you want to change how you think, try affirmations day after day. Put some motivational quotes into your lifestyle. Consume something that will make a small change each day to advance your position.

SWAP YOUR COFFEE TREATS

Another thought on Strategy is that you want to work toward longevity. It doesn’t make much sense to sprint to the finish and die too soon. You might as well mature faster than you age - and value your journey.

This is 2 billion pre/probiotics. It’s part of our Viome precision supplements. We dropped our designer coffee treats to save up. We took the tests, waited for months, and started a better habit that extends our biological age incrementally. I think the discipline of valuing longevity long before we got in an Airstream is worth the $5 a day. (cold coffee)

PAY ATTENTION TO SMALL INJURIES:
Little wounds add up. Gut inflammation and weight gain don’t explode, they emerge from small choices.

INCREMENTAL INJURY

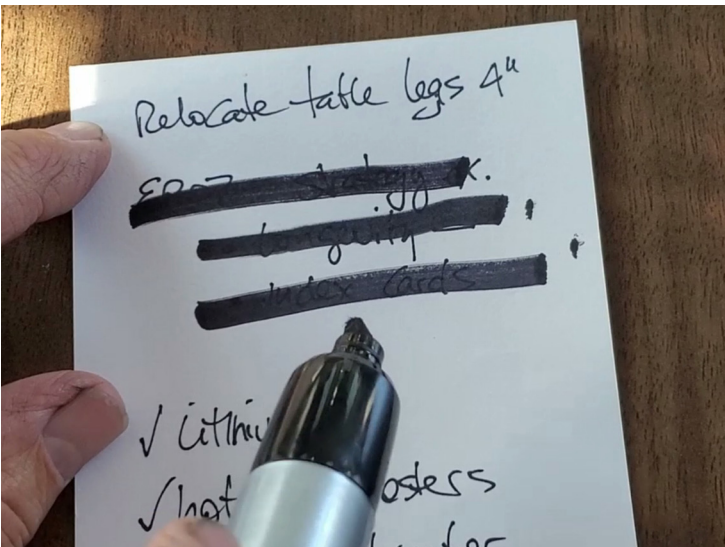

Angelina: What just happened?

Daniel: (triggered) I’m simply trying to do a close-up shot of the Viome supplements, and when I poured them out, they rolled away into the dirty sink. So I flinched to grab them, clipping the cutting board to bloody my thumb and nail.

Angelina: Oh, thank you for splashing the blood. Let’s coat the wound with ointment.

Daniel: Oh, you see the blood? So I go from trying to be helpful... let me show people how cool Viome is... to bleeding. What an outcome!

The take-away? Give yourself an allowance for wounding in your Strategy! Be attentive to small things you are dealing with, like knives and onions or avocado. (been there too)

SELF ASSIGNED WORK DUTIES:
Take this from an ACHIEVER. Your ‘boss’ must be clear eyed, forward thinking and willing to pivot.

TO-DO LISTS

Another strategy that you’ve seen me use is to assign myself to-do items on a list. Rather than forgetting, or working on FUN things ahead of ESSENTIAL things, I direct my work when I’m thinking clearly. That way, I don’t have to spend time wondering - I do what my boss told me to.

(crossing off items)

I just finished the previous video clip, and I’m done with this one. I get satisfaction for my focused time by crossing off the tasks. I decided in advance and gave myself the discipline to work through the list - knowing that items will continually be added - like gluing the knob back on the stove-top. Doing so reduces distracted thinking - like ‘why the factory doesn’t use glue?’

PREVENTS DIFFICULTY

A second strategy to embrace is that ‘little things matter.’ They do. You’ve heard of the phrase, “a stitch in time saves nine”? What the heck does that mean? In the days of large sailing ships, if you didn’t fix the tiny stitching that was coming out of a mainsail, the next time you had a decent blow, it would tear the whole sail open, and you’d have more damage.

Paying attention to little things can save a tremendous amount of grief, anguish, loss, and disappointment over time. A great strategy to embrace is to pay attention to the little things by considering that little things matter.

I thought this was humorous...

The definition reads: “small action taken on right time may prevents difficulty to be bigger later”. I think that’s funny.

a stitch in time saves nine

Meaning

- do not wait to deal with a specific problem or you risk it getting much worse later on
- it's better to find solution of any trouble on time before it becomes worse
- small action taken on right time may prevents difficulty to be bigger later,

Small Attention

WITH SMALL METAL SHAVINGS

One of the things you can practice at home to become familiar with Airstreaming is to find some small metal shavings and throw them on the floor. Then walk around with bare feet.

This is an aluminum shaving from one of the rivets. When they replace a faulty rivet in the factory, it’s easy to go too fast and over-drill it. That small action creates a piece of metal like this (closeup of aluminum shaving) that ends up on the floor, sometimes under a cabinet, and when you step on it - it feels terrific.

Small Action

WITH TINY LOOSE PARTS

While you’re vacuuming, you’ll find tiny, tiny parts like this on the floor (closeup of tiny nut). Then you’ll start looking around, thinking, where the heck did it come from? Don’t just throw it away with the vacuum dust. You have to have a place to put all those little parts.

(dropping the nut in a drawer tray)

I bet that’s going to be important.

I found a screw lying inside my solar briefcase about a week later. Since I have a strategy of putting parts in the drawer - it went in.

While editing this episode a week after finding the nut, I see a video clip of the nut. My brain uses a cognitive bias to connect one screw to one nut. Sure enough, there’s the solution to the missing nut that secures the charge controller inside the solar briefcase. That is quite literally ‘case closed’ on the bigger problem.

Bigger Problem Solved

WITH SMALL WATER USE

You can practice Airstreaming at home by not coating the inside of your drain pipes and gray tank with oil or salad dressing. You could use paper plates, but that is resource expensive. Instead, take your napkin and wipe all food residues off the plate. This then becomes all you have to clean with minimal water.

(showing a cleanly wiped plate)

Once again, instead of paper plates, use nice china - wipe it all off with one napkin at the end. The oil is cleaned off. The plate goes in the sink, and that is how you can practice Airstreaming without leaving your home.

May Prevents Difficulty

"Our Airstream is a COVID baby, born in November of 2020. He has defects. Good news... I couldn't have asked for better SCOTOMAVILLE content."

DO WHAT'S NECESSARY

Angelina: What are you doing?

Daniel: Arnie has a tummy ache. He's a COVID baby. He's got irritable bowel syndrome. They forgot to glue the shower plumbing. The drain line is not glued. See this? That's supposed to be connected. It's not. I have to reach back in there and glue it.

Two hours later... not a single drop of water!

Yeah, little things matter...

"Start by doing what's necessary, then do what's possible, and suddenly you are doing the impossible."

I hope you're catching my Strategy to leverage the widespread interest in Airstreams as a bridge to convey what I believe are fundamental principles. You can mimic, test and practice them right now.

DO WHAT'S POSSIBLE

To demonstrate this: I'm in the Ford Studios now because Angelina is working in her office... and because I'm going to pivot, splitting the topic of Strategy into two episodes.

The next episode is about having an abundance mindset, not being locked into scarcity, and learning to speak the truth. In other words, seeing things the way they really are by not limiting our point of view to the way we are.

How fun!

Thanks for joining me in getting out of Scotomaville. I'll see you next Episode.

DO THE IMPOSSIBLE

We forfeited the Airstream in Scottsdale but found one in Albuquerque, New Mexico. So we drive all the way there, which doesn't work out. Then we eventually found one in Oklahoma City. We stayed there for a month in a hotel waiting for things to come together. Meanwhile, Daniel had his kidney stone. So a lot of impossible stuff happened that month in Oklahoma City.

[music] okay, that really doesn't look right [music]

DISCUSS

There are insights we have that would help others not learn things the hard way. Post a lesson or two, ask a question, and get feedback.

Here's a land mine. Don't step on it! You know the drill!

The odd thing about dancing with the invisible world is that we see it with our eyes, but have a tough time believing with our minds. Having solid strategies can make those puzzles valuable, as they don't hang in the closet to smell musty. Open the windows...

List some strategies you frequent. Attach an experience or two for each. Add the insights to an episode of your expedition story.

Let's apply your superior reasoning to the challenge of self-mastery with a thesis, summary, and conclusion referencing this session.

In this thread, we explored the distinction between strategy and rigid planning, using examples from both warfare and business to illuminate the superiority of a flexible strategic approach. The discussion began with historical war examples, including Hannibal's triumph at Cannae and Napoleon's victory at Austerlitz, both of which showcased adaptability, understanding of opponents, and strategic deception. We then transitioned to a business example, contrasting Netflix's successful transition to streaming with Blockbuster's failure to adapt, highlighting the importance of innovation, foresight, and a customer-centric approach.

*Self-mastery, akin to the strategic triumphs in both historical battles and modern business as explored in our discussion, requires adaptability, foresight, and a willingness to innovate beyond rigid patterns of thought. Embracing a strategic approach, rather than adhering to a fixed plan, allows for personal growth and evolution, mirroring the victories of Hannibal and Napoleon on the battlefield and Netflix in the business world. By learning to 'see with new eyes,' individuals can transcend self-imposed limitations, navigating the complex journey to self-understanding with the same superior reasoning that led to success in these varied domains.

*In conclusion, the narrative from the transcript of this episode provides compelling evidence to favor a robust and flexible strategy over a rigid plan. It lays stress on the larger scope of strategy that accounts for the entire situation, emphasizes incremental changes, attention to details, and a willingness to adapt and learn from both successes and failures. It echoes the sentiment expressed by Francis of Assisi: "Start by doing what's necessary, then do what's possible, and suddenly you are doing the impossible."

“Scotomaville” takes readers on an introspective journey into personal development. Through a seamless blend of philosophical dialogues, allegorical narratives, and psychological concepts, the book weaves an engaging exploration that appeals to both the mind and the heart. The author adeptly delves into themes such as perception, self-mastery, and the hero’s journey, showcasing a profound grasp of psychological processes and their influence on human behavior. For those navigating the complexities of personal growth, the trilogy offers a transformative odyssey, illustrating that resilience and self-discovery are universal quests that resonate with individuals seeking to overcome inner challenges and doubts.

This trilogy serves as a reflection for military veterans and first responders, echoing their sacrifices, camaraderie, and sense of purpose. The themes of adversity, seeking guidance, and embracing healing closely align with their experiences, providing a source of inspiration for those who have selflessly protected and served others.

For patriots and believers who hold their values dear, the trilogy presents character-driven narratives that mirror their dedication to higher principles. Exploring community, unity, and personal growth, the books align with their desire to positively contribute to society and reinforce the significance of collective well-being.

Fatherless individuals and young explorers identify with the trilogy’s portrayal of quests for identity and meaning. The characters’ journeys from uncertainty to self-assuredness reflect the universal process of finding one’s place in the world, motivating young minds to navigate life’s puzzles with courage and determination.

Moreover, experts in fields from psychology and storytelling to stoic and biblical philosophy will appreciate the trilogy’s profound concepts interwoven with relatable narratives. The author’s mastery is evident in crafting a work that appeals to intellectual and emotional sensibilities alike.

Throughout the trilogy, Daniel’s transformation serves as a relatable and inspiring narrative. His evolution from a curious seeker hindered by cognitive biases to a self-aware individual confronting inner doubts resonates deeply with readers.

In a world valuing personal growth, camaraderie, service, purpose, and self-discovery, the Scotomaville Trilogy stands as proof of storytelling’s power to connect, inspire, and transform. Its pages offer lessons, insights, and reflections embracing the shared human experience, making it an essential read for individuals from all walks of life. In conclusion, the trilogy’s rich philosophical discussions, relatable character arcs, and insightful exploration of cognitive biases contribute significantly to the fields of psychology and personal development.

Please express any correlation between my list of strengths, and a robust list of human virtues. Analyze the union of the two for shared characteristics and a deeper meaning.

Certainly! Let’s look at the intersection between the specific strengths from the Clifton StrengthsFinder that you provided (Achiever, Input, Learner, Activator, Belief) and a traditional list of virtues such as wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance, and transcendence.

ACHIEVER

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Achievers have a constant drive for accomplishing tasks. This can correlate with the virtue of courage, which involves persistence and vitality, and justice, where hard work and fairness contribute to the overall good of the community.

INPUT

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom

Explanation: People with the Input strength have a craving to know more, collecting and archiving information. This resonates with wisdom, which is characterized by a pursuit of knowledge and insightful judgment.

LEARNER

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom, Humanity

Explanation: A constant desire to improve and learn aligns with the virtue of wisdom. It may also align with humanity if the learning is directed towards understanding others and improving social bonds.

ACTIVATOR

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Activators are inclined to take action and want to make things happen. This aligns with courage, as it requires the boldness to initiate, and justice, where action may be directed towards equality and fairness.

BELIEF

Virtue Correlation: Transcendence, Justice

Explanation: The Belief strength is connected to core values and purpose. It aligns with transcendence, where there is a connection to something greater, and justice, where values often include fairness and equality.

Summary of Union (Intersection):

The union between these strengths and virtues reveals a strong emphasis on wisdom (through Input and Learner), courage (through Achiever and Activator), and justice (through Achiever, Activator, and Belief). The values of humanity and transcendence are also present but to a lesser extent.

This analysis suggests that a person with these strengths might be particularly well-suited for roles that require insightful judgment, bold action, and a strong sense of fairness and values. They may excel in leadership roles, educational fields, advocacy, or any area where wisdom, courage, and justice are paramount.

MASTER Forrest

To Angelina Musik-Comp:

I am deeply grateful for your stamina, patience, and support as my best friend and business partner. We have traveled the curves together in good cheer. You are amazingly resilient and a joyful character to explore with. I am grateful for your gift of HEALING matching my expression of UNDERSTANDING!

To you, the reader, and participant:

When I imagined this project, I had a hunch the cost would be years of commitment - but not five years. What you might not imagine is that it took me far less time and angst to create the Wellness by Choice syndication, and the Scotomaville syndication of nearly twenty five thousand websites. And now we have AI.

I believe “The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”. Fortunately AI still lacks subjective experiences, emotions, and self-reflective awareness - and thus our superpower of story-telling may yet be an error correcting trim-tab for super intelligent reasoning engines.

Cheers to YOUR Greatest Expedition!
