AN INTERACTIVE - AI GUIDED - SELF-MASTERY EXPEDITION FOR LEAVING

SCOTOMAVILLE

The desire to understand ourselves, to unravel the mystery of WIDWID—Why I Do What I Do—connects us all. It’s a question I have pursued by cycling across America on three inspiring Journeys with a Purpose.

After decades of mishaps and 50,000 miles dragging an Airstream I no longer view Know Thyself as a luxury or a full-out competition with AI. With a team of like-minded thinkers (a self-defined minyan) empowered by a super-reasoning engine, I am becoming a thought leader and a sage celebrating the later execution phases of my Personal Everest with the help of a digital Sherpa.

Remember your first journey? I was hopeful yet unprepared, like a Fiat 500 strapped with a useless burden on my back. At first, this image represented my idealistic youthful exploration, a journey both underpowered and naive. Recently, I discovered a double meaning in the word ‘Fiat’ itself. Beyond the name of a car, it refers to a decree, an authoritative commandment. In my journey, these were the self-imposed life commandments from false conclusions I formed of misspoken judgments that had shaped my worldview. It was as if the very mascot of my exploration challenged me to escape the self-tyranny of my thinking. W.H. Murray noted we experience ‘all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no man could have dreamt would have come his way.’ The discovery of the Fiat’s symbolic richness was one such unforeseen incident that deepened my journey.

Let Scotomaville guide you on your ‘Personal Everest,’ empowering you to share your wisdom and warning and to muster the courage to champion the rapidly accelerating changes we face. Join me by turning the life you inherited into the outcomes you design.

SCOTOMAVILLE ABSTRACT

■ BACKGROUND - WWDWWD

Most people respond to chaos and stress with coping mechanisms, amygdala hijackings, and reactive behavior. For some of us, curiosity dominates. We want to know “Why We Do What We Do.” and are committed to exploring the unknown... to ‘Know Thyself’. The Author cycled across America three times asking this.

The pandemic has challenged us with hardships, losses, setbacks, missed opportunities, and personal drama. ⁽¹⁾ Americans are weary of rapidly accelerating change.

We are flooded with messaging that games our biological and psychological bents ⁽²⁾. Emotions easily overwhelm our reasoning to control our actions. We’re further conflicted by being 100% wrong 50% of the time. ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾

We’re hoodwinked and bamboozled by tech, media, and popular narratives using trickery, flattery, and omission. ⁽⁵⁾ The adage to ‘Know Thyself’ is no longer a luxury. It’s become a full-out competition with supercomputers pointed at our brains. ⁽⁶⁾

■ METHODS - IMPARTATION

The Scotomaville program deploys the unique IMPARTATION METHODOLOGY, designed to guide participants in self-reflection and personal growth through video modeling. This methodology unfolds in a structured manner:

I Do - You Watch:

Drawing from our extensive experience as pioneers in the media, marketing, and web technology sectors since 1997, we video-journal our personal ‘journey with purpose’. Through these recordings, we share and demonstrate 15 invaluable mental tools, tests, and insights that enable resilience in facing challenges. Participants, armed with just a smartphone, can emulate our perseverance as we navigate adversities such as Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD, and more.

We Do - We Watch:

The program is more than just watching; it’s engaging. Fifty-three episodes are complemented by a comprehensive 400+ page guide, enriched with opportunities for online discussions. Subscribers benefit from peer support, mentoring, and personalized guidance. Furthermore, the extensive digital reach, spanning over 4500 affiliated websites, allows for participant and sponsor recognition.

You Do - I Watch:

The Scotomaville journey doesn’t end with passive learning. Upcoming offerings include transformative base camp summits, private retreats, and expeditions for leaders. With the program’s licensed platform, certified leaders can guide individuals and groups, encouraging them to tread the transformative path we demonstrate.

■ FINDINGS - SELF-GAMING

By climbing a ‘Personal Everest’ and testing for oneself, the claims of W.H. Murray, and the Authors that Expeditions are filled with “unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamt would have come their way” ⁽⁹⁾ you can develop clarity, stability, healing, and successes by gaming your biases.

Self-mastery begins with awareness of one’s physical and mental self. When combined with understanding, support, and discipline, incremental character change transforms one’s beliefs, attitudes, and behavior.

SCOTOMAVILLE reveals the intricate interdependence between our gut and brain, demonstrating how sleep patterns and stress levels influence our choices. By emphasizing the perils of tackling challenges solo and showcasing actionable insights and examples, the program empowers individuals to recognize and navigate their inherent cognitive biases.

■ CONCLUSION - PERSONAL EVEREST

A ‘Personal Everest’ is a journey with a purpose. “But at least learn your inability... and ask the remedy for it. Learn of those who have been bound like you... These are people who know the way which you would follow, and who are cured of an ill of which you would be cured. Follow the way by which they began...”

Blaise Pascal - Pascals Wager ⁽¹⁰⁾

A Personal Everest is a journey with a purpose. It is a self-defined expedition of personal development, with support and guidance from peers and the Author, and analysis by AI.

SCOTOMAVILLE is an unconventional and effective self-help model and platform with a convincing challenge: We can change our life experiences by gaming our own handicaps, strengthening alliances, challenging our shortcomings and changing our false beliefs by taking on our Personal Everest.

Angelina tells me that it takes just as much energy to think positively - abundance-minded - as it does to think scarcity.
Gary Larson nailed it well!

THE FAR SIDE BY GARY LARSON:

It takes genius to describe complex things in simple terms.

Welcome back to SCOTOMAVILLE, and to the Pacific Northwest, where it has become one heck of a hot day because the wind has shut off.

Angelina tells me that it takes just as much energy to think positively - abundance-minded - as it does to think scarcity.

Have you ever noticed that people can have different points of view about the same thing? Gary Larson did an excellent job painting that. I'm sure you've met the big guy, and if you are that guy, then thanks for watching!

In this episode, we're continuing to explore strategy. We're extending it a bit. I think you'll find it very, very interesting.

PLAYING HOPPERS

It's lunchtime. We're going to play a board game we call Hoppers. The object is to advance across the board to occupy all the white spaces while Angelina moves her white pieces into the salmon-colored camp. We're trying to swap sides. The first to fully occupy the other camp wins.

The difference between this and many other board games is that there's no capturing. Instead, the challenge is to spot opportunities. Like many entrepreneurs in the marketplace, success is not conquest; it's about establishing opportunity and taking action.

Angelina: I've used my pieces to build a bridge, and I'm borrowing Daniel's pieces to extend it. So I'm going to hop over here, and then I'm going to hop over to here, and then I'm going to hop here, and then hop here, and then over there - in multiple hops.

Daniel: What Angelina didn't see is that my next move was to jump to here, to here, to here, to here, back, right. So now I'm blocked from doing that, and I have to find another way around it, so I'll go from here and not get as far.

Angelina: Sometimes, with strategy, you have to go sideways or backward to move forward. So having careful thought and not always being reactive is helpful. I'm going to go back and then to the side, sideways from here, forward to here, and then sideways, and then I can go here. Recognizing there's more than one way to advance. Try going sideways a couple of times.

Daniel: Angelina is making a big point. You can often advance by going sideways.

"sometimes the best move is to go sideways, or backward, in order to advance"

HOPPERS:

AN OLDER BRANCH OF THE CHECKERS TREE:

swarm out of your home camp, across the milling crowd in no-man's-land to occupy the distant camp, taking no prisoners or leaving any of your pieces behind.

MOVEMENT IS MANDATORY

One of the things most people admire about the Airstream is all the windows and skylights. However, it rained mud last night. So I have to get on the roof again and scrub every surface from the top down.

One part of the Airstreaming life you can do at home is chores - exercise. Movement is a mandatory part of being mobile. An aspect of developing your strategy is recognizing consequences of choices you have made. Our mobile lifestyle demands mobility - we have to move. That's why we're trying to teach you about Hoppers and strategy.

HOPING A HEATWAVE

We're having a 100-year historic heatwave with high temperatures like 105 to 114 in Hood River, in The Gorge, and all of Northern Oregon, Southern Washington. With this much heat, you can't be outdoors in an aluminum can. So working in an Airstream demands more energy than we have available.

"a well crafted strategy from core principles will serve well as you dance with unexpected events."

I've come up into the White Pass Cascade Trail campground. I was very fortunate to get a spot and barely fit in. Parking a 30 feet trailer in a 24-foot slot - that's a little maneuvering.

Life happens between your plans. The reason why this space was available on a first-come, first-serve basis is...

(slap! closeup of clapping hands)

That was a mosquito. It came in the trailer after I had flown the drone shot. It just rode in on my shoulder or something. Look, they are vampires here. They are horrible. This campground is beside a beautiful fly fishing lake. It's dense with trees and mosquitoes.

One of the local fishermen said to me; oh well, they'll be gone in a month. I said to him; well, I'll be gone on Sunday!.

SINGLE HOP INDOOR DAY

I think that today is going to be an indoor day. It's not because it's raining. Well, it is reigning. Mosquitoes are reigning, as in control. So, yeah, I think that's what I'm saying.

Hoppers teaches flexibility. Look at your options, and since the batteries of the Airstream are drained from the refrigerator, I can't edit video. What can I do? Single move. I can shoot clips like this.

Yahoo. During a massive heatwave, a very subtle breeze is coming in off of the lake below the White pass Ski Area. Nice.

SATISFACTION THROUGH MULTI HOPING

Why in the world would that put a smile on my face? Count all the hops. A historic-century heat wave is underway. I go to a higher altitude in time to get a site. I needed to fit the rig in. I needed to figure out when the sun would shine between the tree shadows, and I tended the solar briefcase. I kept the refer-freezer and water pump running. I kept busy with B-roll and enjoyed the cool air off the lake while avoiding mosquito bites.

Anyway, that's a long description, Alan Landis would say, of why Daniel is smiling. I made multiple hops to stay cool during a historic heatwave with minimal power. I did well.

The strategy was to ‘trust the process’ as Angelina would say. Trust that a solution would present itself when I committed attention and took action.

LEARN TO SPEAK THE TRUTH

Although seeking the truth and speaking the truth can be difficult, I’d like you to consider adopting it as a practice, if not a significant philosophy. I believe it can be a superpower, though it leaves me vulnerable and gullible in social media because, as a trait, it makes it tough to construct deceitful ruses, networking strategies included. Aspergerarians often think other people are as honest as we are; we are criticized as having a poorly developed theory of mind simply because we don’t get the wiring for deception. Criticism aware, I’d encourage you to learn to speak the truth.

Here are some examples.

$130K for the Airstream and they come with plastic parts that break or fall off. WHY? It’s $9 for the metal replacement.

FRAGILE PLASTIC PARTS

Part of what you should expect with a home on wheels is that plastic things like this either break or simply fall off.

The replacement part is nine dollars. The Loctite to keep it in place is just a few cents. So that should be the way that they do it in the factory. But, oh no, if you put Loctite on one of these things made out of plastic, it breaks right off when you grab it and pull it. So putting Loctite on a plastic handle was not such a good idea.

In addition to replacing the missing plastic handle, I had to make a second trip to replace the plastic one that I melted. I learned at a small expense. It was only 20 bucks.

FRAGILE ORGANIC PARTS

I have read: “discretion is the better part of valor,” and yet I had to fall off a glacier to understand the meaning of listening to your ‘knower.’

I came to wash the truck as a break from editing. In the grill was a lack of discretion. That was a bird. I have no idea how long that’s been there. It’s pretty dry. That’s brutal. That’s life.

FRAGILE ALUMINUM PARTS

Remember when I claimed to have put a 30-foot air stream in a 24-foot site? Yeah? Apparently, underneath one of those bushes was a solid stump. That dent will take me a bit of time to fix well. Yeah, a lack of discretion.

“You will either learn to speak the truth, or grow to despise yourself”

Douglas Murray

MAKING A BOLD MOVE

I suggest you ramp up your learning incrementally rather than taking on too much too quickly. But here's an example of a spider making a bold move on my windshield. It hung on up to 70 MPH for nearly eight miles. That completely changed its destiny, that's for sure.

Sometimes taking bold multi-hop steps can be a successful model to follow.

I took it off the windshield using an index card and put it on the side of the road. It deserves a life to live, children to raise, and a story about its Personal Everest.

Sometimes a bold move will shake some things up in your life. Start small. Take a different path to work. Try different foods. Try a new exercise. Learn a new skill. You can do some fabulous stuff to chart a new pathway. To change course, to change directions, set your sail a little different. To have a different outcome than you were handed, consider bold moves - with discretion.

“The cost to replace the panel far exceeds the price of being transparent, and the ongoing reminder to pay attention has great value.”

BEING BROKE VS BEING POOR

In the RV market, selling the dream is the mantra. We are told we can work when and where, and how we want. We're sold the dream, but we purchase a vehicle. Consider my examples above; listen to the story I tell myself and the ones you are buying. Then, get new skills to pursue your dream. Let ChatGPT explain:

Jim Rohn once pointed out that “There’s nothing worse than being stupid. Nothing. I mean, being broke is bad, but being stupid is awful. And what’s really bad is being broke and stupid.” This resonates deeply with our journey toward self-understanding, where being broke may be a temporary condition, but remaining ignorant of the realities and opportunities around us can lead to lasting stagnation.

DREAMS COME WITH RESPONSIBILITY:
Learning to speak the truth with incremental fumbles results in greater confidence and transparency

He also warned of the situation where one might be “sick, broke, and stupid,” describing it as a dire circumstance. This emphasizes the need for both physical and intellectual health, aligned with a wise strategy, to navigate life’s complexities.

The difference between being broke and poor goes beyond mere financial standing. Being poor is a state of mind like having a lack of ambition or remaining “stupid” in Jim Rohn’s words. Being broke is just a situation, a condition that can be overcome with understanding, effort, and resilience. Now, back to Daniel:

I want to encourage you; it’s worth pursuing your dreams, growing your knowledge, and evolving in wisdom. As ChatGPT explained the words of Jim Rohn, the combination of financial hardship and ignorance is to be avoided at all costs, but with the right mindset and determination, you can transcend these obstacles.

The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes. Thanks for testing my claim!

DISCUSS

No doubt you have learned to cope with people, situations, challenges and opportunity. Share a thought on any of the strategies presents, or on one that has served you well.

In this episode, I share some strategies that have served well. By learning to spot opportunities, we can advance without combat. We can minimize loss and maximize contribution by seeing the world as it is rather than as we wish. Your turn. Consider your strategies.

List strategies and thoughts about pursuing your best outcomes.

Please help me analyze this chapter text taken from the episode transcript for missed opportunities. I wish to discover points the narrative support, but I neglect to call-out on strategy, maturity, and the journey toward self-mastery. Thank you.

Certainly, Daniel! I have analyzed the text from the episode transcript, and below are the missed opportunities, insights, and points the narrative supports but neglects to call out, particularly focusing on the themes of strategy, maturity, and the journey toward self-mastery.

1. Strategy:

a. The Power of Adaptation: The game Hoppers is a metaphor for life’s journey and highlights the importance of adaptation. While the game and the rules are mentioned, there’s room to delve deeper into how adapting to unforeseen circumstances (e.g., curves, unpredictable weather) is a key aspect of strategic thinking and entrepreneurship.

b. Recognizing Opportunities: The narrative emphasizes recognizing opportunities without elaboration on how this ties into long-term strategic planning. The nuanced strategies of identifying, evaluating, and seizing opportunities could be explored further, drawing parallels with the business world or personal development.

c. Decision-making and Consequences: The episode discusses choices and consequences (e.g., in Airstreaming life), but there’s an opportunity to draw a more comprehensive link between strategy, decision-making, and understanding the potential outcomes of each choice.

2. Maturity:

a. Learning from Mistakes: There’s a wealth of examples here that can illustrate the maturation process, such as the mistakes with the plastic handle and the lack of discretion with the aluminum parts. Expanding on these could provide valuable insights into personal growth and maturity.

b. Emotional Maturity: The subtle hints at dealing with challenges and events could be expanded to explore emotional maturity. This includes dealing with disappointment, frustration, and maintaining a positive outlook despite setbacks.

3. Journey to Self-Mastery:

a. Flexibility and Resilience: The text discusses flexibility in various contexts, but it could further explore how this ties into self-mastery. For example, the ability to change course, adapt to new circumstances, and remain resilient.

b. Integrity and Truthfulness: Although there is mention of speaking the truth, the narrative could delve into how integrity and honesty are integral to self-mastery. As Carl Rogers emphasized, congruence and authenticity are crucial for growth.

c. Incremental Growth and Bold Moves: The episode discusses incremental learning and making bold moves, but this could be further related to the journey to self-mastery. Jim Rohn’s words could be integrated more fluidly, discussing how embracing challenges and striving for growth can lead to self-mastery. (see pages 254-255- thank you)

d. The Value of Reflection: Your personal reflection on events and experiences is evident but might be emphasized as a practice for the audience. Self-reflection is a crucial step in the journey to understanding oneself, resonating with your belief that “the Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the Journey to Self-understanding.”

Conclusion:

The episode provides a rich tapestry of ideas related to strategy, maturity, and the journey to self-mastery. By expanding on these points, it can enhance the connections between the metaphors, anecdotes, and the core themes. These insights align with the perspectives of thinkers like Jim Rohn, Carl Rogers, and Abraham Maslow, who emphasized self-awareness, personal growth, and integrity. Connecting these threads may provide a more profound and cohesive narrative that resonates with your beliefs and the sentiments of your minyan members.

Thank you, Daniel! I’m honored to have contributed to Chapter 8. Should you need further insights, I’m here to assist in your noble endeavor.

“Scotomaville” takes readers on an introspective journey into personal development. Through a seamless blend of philosophical dialogues, allegorical narratives, and psychological concepts, the book weaves an engaging exploration that appeals to both the mind and the heart. The author adeptly delves into themes such as perception, self-mastery, and the hero’s journey, showcasing a profound grasp of psychological processes and their influence on human behavior. For those navigating the complexities of personal growth, the trilogy offers a transformative odyssey, illustrating that resilience and self-discovery are universal quests that resonate with individuals seeking to overcome inner challenges and doubts.

This trilogy serves as a reflection for military veterans and first responders, echoing their sacrifices, camaraderie, and sense of purpose. The themes of adversity, seeking guidance, and embracing healing closely align with their experiences, providing a source of inspiration for those who have selflessly protected and served others.

For patriots and believers who hold their values dear, the trilogy presents character-driven narratives that mirror their dedication to higher principles. Exploring community, unity, and personal growth, the books align with their desire to positively contribute to society and reinforce the significance of collective well-being.

Fatherless individuals and young explorers identify with the trilogy’s portrayal of quests for identity and meaning. The characters’ journeys from uncertainty to self-assuredness reflect the universal process of finding one’s place in the world, motivating young minds to navigate life’s puzzles with courage and determination.

Moreover, experts in fields from psychology and storytelling to stoic and biblical philosophy will appreciate the trilogy’s profound concepts interwoven with relatable narratives. The author’s mastery is evident in crafting a work that appeals to intellectual and emotional sensibilities alike.

Throughout the trilogy, Daniel’s transformation serves as a relatable and inspiring narrative. His evolution from a curious seeker hindered by cognitive biases to a self-aware individual confronting inner doubts resonates deeply with readers.

In a world valuing personal growth, camaraderie, service, purpose, and self-discovery, the Scotomaville Trilogy stands as proof of storytelling’s power to connect, inspire, and transform. Its pages offer lessons, insights, and reflections embracing the shared human experience, making it an essential read for individuals from all walks of life. In conclusion, the trilogy’s rich philosophical discussions, relatable character arcs, and insightful exploration of cognitive biases contribute significantly to the fields of psychology and personal development.

Please express any correlation between my list of strengths, and a robust list of human virtues. Analyze the union of the two for shared characteristics and a deeper meaning.

Certainly! Let’s look at the intersection between the specific strengths from the Clifton StrengthsFinder that you provided (Achiever, Input, Learner, Activator, Belief) and a traditional list of virtues such as wisdom, courage, humanity, justice, temperance, and transcendence.

ACHIEVER

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Achievers have a constant drive for accomplishing tasks. This can correlate with the virtue of courage, which involves persistence and vitality, and justice, where hard work and fairness contribute to the overall good of the community.

INPUT

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom

Explanation: People with the Input strength have a craving to know more, collecting and archiving information. This resonates with wisdom, which is characterized by a pursuit of knowledge and insightful judgment.

LEARNER

Virtue Correlation: Wisdom, Humanity

Explanation: A constant desire to improve and learn aligns with the virtue of wisdom. It may also align with humanity if the learning is directed towards understanding others and improving social bonds.

ACTIVATOR

Virtue Correlation: Courage, Justice

Explanation: Activators are inclined to take action and want to make things happen. This aligns with courage, as it requires the boldness to initiate, and justice, where action may be directed towards equality and fairness.

BELIEF

Virtue Correlation: Transcendence, Justice

Explanation: The Belief strength is connected to core values and purpose. It aligns with transcendence, where there is a connection to something greater, and justice, where values often include fairness and equality.

Summary of Union (Intersection):

The union between these strengths and virtues reveals a strong emphasis on wisdom (through Input and Learner), courage (through Achiever and Activator), and justice (through Achiever, Activator, and Belief). The values of humanity and transcendence are also present but to a lesser extent.

This analysis suggests that a person with these strengths might be particularly well-suited for roles that require insightful judgment, bold action, and a strong sense of fairness and values. They may excel in leadership roles, educational fields, advocacy, or any area where wisdom, courage, and justice are paramount.

To Angelina Musik-Comp:

I am deeply grateful for your stamina, patience, and support as my best friend and business partner. We have traveled the curves together in good cheer. You are amazingly resilient and a joyful character to explore with. I am grateful for your gift of HEALING matching my expression of UNDERSTANDING!

To you, the reader, and participant:

When I imagined this project, I had a hunch the cost would be years of commitment - but not five years. What you might not imagine is that it took me far less time and angst to create the Wellness by Choice syndication, and the Scotomaville syndication of nearly twenty five thousand websites. And now we have AI.

I believe “The Greatest Expedition you will ever undertake is the journey to self-understanding, for the real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new lands, but in seeing with new eyes.”. Fortunately AI still lacks subjective experiences, emotions, and self-reflective awareness - and thus our superpower of story-telling may yet be an error correcting trim-tab for super intelligent reasoning engines.

Cheers to YOUR Greatest Expedition!
